Report 142 Enemy Killed In S. Laos

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces operating under an umbrella of U.S. air support swept through North Vietnamese base camps, supply depots and warehouses today on the Ho Chi Minh trail in southern Laos.

Saigon headquarters said the day's haul was the most lucrative since the South Vietnamese drive into Laos began Monday.

A spokesman reported finding hundreds of tons of munitions, fuel, clothing and food stockpiles, including 2,000 chickens and ducks. The poultry was distributed on the spot to South Vietnamese troops, he said.

6 Clashes

The headquarters reported half a dozen clashes along the trail north and south of Highway 9. It said 142 enemy were killed while South Vietnamese losses were seven killd and 16 wounded. Many of the North Vietnamese were victims of American bombers and helicopter gunships and some were guarding base camps and war stockpiles about 10 miles from the South Vietnamese border.

1,100 Missions

The U.S. Command announced increased air support for the South Vietnamese, reporting 1,100 helicopter missions into Laos Friday, more than double the number of the previous day. Gunship support, troop lifts and medical evacuation of dead and wounded were included.

Honesty Is His Bag

CHICAGO (AP) — Norman Budwit, a $3.50-an-hour clerk who returned $183,000 he found, says he considers himself an honest man "within reasonable limits."

Then he added: "Well, philosophers down through the centuries have been looking for an honest man and they haven't been successful."

Budwit, 35, got a reward of $18,300 after he returned to Brink's, Inc., Friday the two sacks containing the $183,000, mostly in cash but with some checks. He had found them Monday.

Others Bag

Budwit said at a news conference he had hesitated to return the windfall for fear other bags might be missing and he would be held accountable for them.

Asked if he ever considered just keeping the money he replied:

"In that situation I suppose everything enters your mind but I never opened the seal."

Officials of the Brink's Inc., figure Budwit picked up the money Monday within an hour of the time it fell out the back door of an armored truck in suburban Elmhurst. A guard felt a draft, turned to find a door of the vehicle wide open and noticed the bags were missing.

Budwit said that while driving from his home in Downers Grove to his job on the night shift at Shell Oil Co., in Des Plaines he found the bags marked "Brink's" and threw them in the car "just to get them out of the road."

Forgot Them

He said he forgot about them until Tuesday and then refrained from telling his wife, Kay, about them "because it was just something else she would have to be concerned about."

Friday, when he saw news stories about the missing money he phoned Brink's and told Security Director William Cole, "I would like some clarification on the reward."

The news stories quoted company officials as saying it would be "liberal."

Jones told newsmen that even though company officials had mentioned the liberal reward they considered the chances of recovering the bags were "3 to 1 against."

After a brief conversation with Budwit they said recovering the money would be worth 10 per cent to them and they hastened to his home to pick up the bags.

Budwit said he would consult his wife and three children ranging in age from 7 to 14 on how to spend the reward.

Probably, he said, it would be for "family use and necessities —the necessary evils of living day to day."

80,000 in Suburb

Quake Victims Home

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eighty thousand people have returned home after three nights in motels, tents or friends' houses wondering whether an earthquake-damaged dam near their prosperous suburb would burst.

Officials ordered the evacuation of a 20-square-mile area after Tuesday's earthquake cracked the concrete facing of the earthen Van Norman Dam containing the city's largest reservoir. Workers pumped out 1.3 billion of the reservoir's 3.6 billion gallons of water. Officials said Friday there was no more danger of a rupture and flooding.

Toll at 61

The death toll throughout the Los Angeles area rose to 61, including 42 who died when a veterans hospital collapsed. Two persons are still missing.

One man freed after being trapped beneath rubble at the hospital for 58 hours told newsmen Friday, "I was hollering and hollering and nobody could hear. I was kicking and nobody was around. I kept thinking, 'I'm through now.'" But Frank Cabonara, a 68-year-old kitchen worker, suffered only a broken hand and the loss of 20 pounds.

The county engineer has said the earthquake damage in Los Angeles County could reach $1 billion.

Cars were lined up for three blocks at the edge of the evacuated San Fernando Valley area in 90-degree afternoon heat as police removed the barricades.

As officers continued patrolling to discourage looters, cars streamed in slowly, laden with sleeping bags, bottled water and clothing. Kids ran down the streets to greet friends they hadn't seen since Tuesday. Householders drove off to markets for supplies.

Some immediately turned sprinklers on parched lawns. But most found they had no water because of broken mains.

One returning man talked about a brief visit Thursday night for a special reason. "I told the officers I had to get some medicine," he said, "but I fed the cats."

Another who had been back earlier recalled, "It was like you were the only person left on earth—almost like a movie I saw where an A-bomb blasted all life and one man returned."

The Paul Spendlove family was typical of many coming back to Granada Hills. Recalling the evacuation with her dentist husband and their four children, Mrs. Spendlove said. "I took bottles for the baby but no diapers. They were all in the wash. And I took some crackers and oranges for the other children. And that was all." They stayed with friends, all in one bedroom the first night because "the children wouldn't sleep away from us."

Other evacuees camped in public parks, using rest rooms for washing. Some took motel rooms. And some went to evacuation centers set up at schools.

The wife of a retired meat cutter recalled one evacuation center: "There were a million kids jumping all over the place. God, what a racket." The couple left soon for a nephew's house across the valley.

The 1,000 officers on patrol during the evacuation period reported 41 arrests—17 for failing to leave the area, 14 for investigation of burglary.

Most of the Granada Hills houses were little damaged by the quake. Police handed leaflets to returning residents asking them to check carefully for gas, electrical or structural defects.

Moon Rocks Scrutinized

Mitchell Says He Conducted Mental Telepathy Test

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Moon rocks and astronauts come under careful scrutiny again today as evaluation of the Apollo 14 mission continues in the isolation of the Lunar Receiving Laboratory.

During the first day in the two-week quarantine in the lab Friday, astronaut Edgar D. Mitchell acknowledged he had conducted a personal experiment in mental telepathy during the flight and scientists became intrigued by a mysterious white rock.

It had been reported earlier that Mitchell tried to send symbols by mental telepathy to a Chicago man who claims to be a psychic.

Mental Telepathy

A space agency spokesman in the lab said Mitchell confirmed he did conduct an experiment in mental telepathy but the astronauts declined to discuss it further.

The experiment was described as a personal project and in no way interfered with Mitchell's duties on the moon flight, which ended Tuesday with splashdown in the South Pacific.

Storm Fence in Florida

Prisoners Shot in Ruckus

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP) — Twenty prisoners were wounded by shotgun fire and 23 more were injured in a scramble to escape buckshot blasts when guards at Raiford State Prison opened fire on 600 inmates who tried to storm a fence, officials said.

The prisoners returned to their cells after the shooting Friday, the officials said.

Louie Wainwright, Florida's director of correction, said about 600 prisoners massed on the recreation field at the 2,200-man main prison while officials tried to deal with hunger-striking inmates at a maximum security prison a short distance away.

The 1,200 prisoners in maximum security were on the hunger strike to support demands that included conjugal visits, better food preparation, increased vocational training and improved parole procedures.

"We had gotten the maximum security group calmed down pretty good when they started up in the other prison," Wainwright said.

"The guards tried calming them down. But the prisoners were smashing windows and burning anything they could find around the athletic field—equipment and benches and the boxing ring.

"Then the prisoners started heading for the fence. By that time it was getting dark and the guards had to fire to bring them under control," he said.

Most of the prisoners suffered superficial wounds from shotgun pellets, but 11 were hospitalized, Wainwright said.

Wainwright said the hunger strike began Thursday and was scheduled to last 72 hours, but he hoped the prisoners would resume taking meals today.

Jobs Sought For Objectors

Selective Service Consider Peace, Teacher Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Required to find jobs for increasing numbers of conscientious objectors, Selective Service is studying recommendations that some be considered automatically for Peace Corps, Teacher Corps or VISTA assignments.

The idea, along with others on public-service jobs for COs, emerged from a Selective Service task force which met quietly with antiwar draft-counseling organizations before making its recommendations.

Officials emphasize local draft boards may veto any request for Peace Corps, VISTA or Teacher Corps assignments as a substitute for military service.

Some Hurdles

There are some hurdles: Young men with antiwar convictions would have to first qualify for a special CO status for alternative civilian service. Others willing to take Army jobs as medics or other noncombatants couldn't apply.

Nevertheless, the suggestion is apparently under serious consideration by an agency which must find alternative service for 6,000 young men who meet the civilian alternative qualifications. And recommendations from Selective Service headquarters, officials say, usually exert strong influence on local boards.

Economic, Military Strife

N. Ireland to Face More Trouble

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Northern Ireland is an armed camp that seems to be heading for crisis, both economic and military.

Senior officials believe it is only a matter of time before the Irish Republican Army renews guerrilla tactics which in the past week have caused 11 deaths. They are afraid that unless the IRA can be stopped quickly Northern Ireland's Protestants will react angrily.

"The gun is back in Irish politics," an official said. "All Irish history shows that when that happens the result is a bloodletting.

5 Explosions

Underlining this, five explosions resounded in central Belfast early today, but large numbers of troops and police called out to seek damage and casualties reported neither.

The current violence comes from IRA's Provisional wing, composed of Roman Catholic nationalists trying to expel the British army and unite the mainly Protestant province with the Catholic-dominated Republic of Ireland to the south.

The Provisionals have many rifles and automatic weapons and apparently possess a large supply of gelignite, a type of dynamite. This explosive was used Tuesday in a booby trap that killed five civilians.

Well Armed

On the other side, the similarly outlawed Ulster Volunteer Force also is well armed and trained. It is dedicated to maintaining Protestant rule in the six counties North and rejecting any link with the Republic

At the moment the UVF is largely passive but military officials do not expect this situation to continue if IRA activity is stepped up.

In between the outlawed forces is the embattled British force which came in August 1969 to head off a bloodbath between Protestants and Catholics in Belfast's back streets.

The military situation and the economic ills behind it make a somber setting for the 50th anniversary of the Northern Ireland government formed by the Partition of Ireland.

7,400 Men

Recent reinforcements have brought the British army's strength in Ulster to 7,400 men, and it is clear that they are having trouble keeping the peace even before Northern Ireland's "marching season" begins Each spring and summer Catholic and Protestant organizations stage parades and counter-parades and at the height of last year's marching season 2,000 British soldiers were in the province. Units were called in from Germany, Cyprus and Malta.

Urgent decisions, too, face, Northern Ireland's government on chronic unemployment, three times the general British level and in some areas affecting a quarter of the male population.

To this creeping illness have been added uncertainties in the Belfast aircraft industry following the collapse of the Rolls-Royce empire.

An Offense

Northern Irelands prime minister, James Chichester—Clark, has put into action two regulations intended to strengthen the security forces' hand in countering the IRA

One makes it an offense for any person to dress or behave in public so as to suggest that he is a member of a subversive organization. The other outlaws concealment of dead or wounded.

Government officials believe jailing 50 or so men would remove the core of the IRA leadership.

All political solutions appear to have been rejected in advance by Protestant and Catholic extremists.

The IRA says it will fight any confederation linking Belfast, London and Dublin, an idea explored informally among the three governments

Political Solution

It says it will oppose just as strongly any political solution to Irish partition based on entry of both the United Kingdom and the Irish Republic in the European Common Market, leading eventually toward the dissolution of the Irish border set up 50 years ago.

Nor are the North's hard-line Protestants reconciled to a solution involving association with the Republic.

John McQuade, Unionist member of Parliament for a Protestant area of Belfast, put it this way:

"I would rather hand the country over to the Soviet Union than join the Republic. This is because I will never submit to the rule of the Roman Catholic Church."

St. Olaf Tops Vikes, 93-77 In Last Half

Hot Outside Shooting Late in Game Keeps Oles Unbeaten

BY RON WITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Spunky Lawrence battled toe-to-toe with Midwest Conference heavyweight St. Olaf for 30 minutes at Alexander Gym Friday night, but the Oles' superior board work and torrid outside shooting in the final 10 minutes provided the Minnesotans a 93-77 victory.

The Oles, who had whipped the Vikes, 94-58, in their first meeting at Northfield, thus stretched their league record to 11-0 while the Vikes slipped to 3-8. The loss ended a 3-game home win skein for the hosts.

Lawrence was still in the thick of things with 10:53 showing when Jim Dyer — who led the Vikes with 23 points — sank a beautiful driving bank shot off the glass, reducing the visitors' lead to 65-63.

But then 6-6 forward Dave Finholt slammed in a rebound and later hit again from the side to put the Oles up, 69-63 inside the 10-minute mark. It was St. Olaf's biggest lead since an earlier 57-50 cushion.

Dyer renewed Vike hopes with another 15-footer, only to have the league pace-setters outscore their hosts, 9-0, in the next 2:10 as Dan Halvorsen drilled three straight buckets.

Margin Cut

John Linnen's brace of free throws cut the Ole margin back to 78-67 with 6:45 remaining, but then the Oles got two long-range buckets from Mike Smieding and a rebound goal by Bob Schumacher for an insurmountable 84-67 bulge with only 5:04 to go. The spread reached as much as 93-72 in the waning seconds.

The second-half burst spoiled a good effort by the underdog Vikes, who rode some spectacular shooting through the first 20 minutes for a 44-44 tie at intermission. LU held the upper hand most of the way in the opening segment, once mounting a 19-11 advantage.

Lawrence, working hard for good shots, fired in 20 of 27 attempts in their first half for a blazing 74 per cent. Dyer had seven of his 11 field goals and Reuben Plantico had all six of his baskets during the span.

50 Per Cent Shooting

However, coach John Poulson's cagers fell off considerably in the second half as they were able to connect on just 13 of 39, for 33 per cent. The combined total was still a fine 50 per cent (33 of 66).

St. Olaf wasn't bad, 20 of 44, in the first half, but got much better in the second stanza, hitting 21 of 37. The Oles finished with 41 for 81 or slightly under 50 per cent.

St. Olaf had five players in double figures at the final horn. Finholt was tops with 19, followed by muscular Eric Bundgaard, 18; Halvorsen and Smieding, 13 apiece, and Mark Schroeder 10.

Strat Warden's 16 points and 12 markers apiece by Plantico and Kevin Gage lent support to Dyer's efforts.

St. Olaf came out with a 48-37 edge on the boards.

Mark Catlin, a 6-1 guard who formerly played at Appleton West High School, tallied a basket in three attempts and was charged with a personal foul as he saw action for the Oles in the final 1:47.

Hawks Squelch Ledger Bid, Win, 73 to 65

12-Point Rally In Fourth Quarter Pulls Out Victory

FOND DU LAC — Xavier High School put together 12 straight points early in the final period and squelched a determined St. Mary Springs victory bid, as the Hawks posted a 73-65 win in a Fox Valley Catholic Conference game played here Friday night.

Xavier now possesses a 5-9 league mark, while the Ledgers slipped to 3-12.

The Appleton quint nursed a 49-48 lead with only a few minutes gone in the final stanza, but Joe Schneider, Tim O'Dell, and Mark Collar all made good on three-point plays to help the Hawks grab a 61-48 lead before the smoke cleared.

Both quints scored 26 buckets, but Xavier held a 21-13 free throw advantage. The eventual winners shot at a 38 per cent clip, while the Ledgers made 37 per cent from the floor.

O'Dell paced all scorers, meshing 12 fielders and popping in six free throws for a 30-point total. Collar added 23 for the Appleton cagers.

Tom Wegner's 20 was high for the losers, while Dave Shaw swished 17 and John Murphy meshed 14.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Mark Winzenried set an Astrodome record in winning the university 880 yard run and anchored the winning Wisconsin sprint medely relay team Friday night in the United States Track and Field Federation meet.

Winzenried's time of 1:49.5 was .4 second under the old record and .9 second better than runnerup Paul Hackett of Brigham Young.

The Badger relay team was clocked in 3:18.0 to win by a second over Oklahoma State. Winzenried was anchorman on a squad which also included Jim Nickels, Bill Bahlfleth and Mark Kartman.

UW was third in the distance medley with a team of Skip Kent Kartman, Chuck Baker and Don Vandrey.

FVL Rally Downs University School

Fox Valley Lutheran's Foxes regained their shooting eye in the final quarter to down the University School Wildcats, 52-47, before a Parents Night crowd at the FVL gym Friday night.

The Midwest Prep Conference victory was the Foxes' sixth of the season against seven losses, while the Milwaukee school fell to a 3-8 mark.

After the two teams fought to a 29-29 draw at the half, the Wildcats moved out to a 41-36 advantage at the end of the third period. In their cold 7-point frame, the home forces made only three of 20 shots from the floor.

But the Foxes then fired in seven baskets in 12 attempts in the final stanza to overcome the Wildcat lead. Dennis Kasten had three buckets and a free toss, while Wayne Bousley hit three court shots to pace the Foxes' 16-6 margin through the last eight minutes.

Tied at 45

The contest was tied at 45-all with four minutes remaining, but then Bousley broke the deadlock with a jumper at the 3:33 mark.

Kasten and the visitors' Joe Basarich traded baskets, but then Eric Troge's layin with 1:19 to go gave the Foxes a 4-point cushion at 51-47. Kasten notched a gift toss to complete the scoring with just 49 seconds showing.

Kasten finished with 15 points to share honors with Troge as FVL's top point-makers, and Bousley had 14. Roc Baumann and Mike Spencer netted 10 apiece for the losers.

Fox Valley shot 32.8 per cent on 23 baskets in 70 shots, while University School hit 31.0 on 18 of 58. The Foxes enjoyed a 44-29 edge in rebounds.

Menasha Leads Mat Meet

NEENAH — Menasha High moved nine of its 11 entries into the semi-finals and took the team lead with 50 points during the first half of the Neenah WIAA Regional Wrestling Tournament Friday night.

Appleton East ranks second with 41 points and seven qualifiers while Neenah and Brillion are tied for third with 38 points and six semi-finalists.

Neenah heavyweight Gary Zeinert stopped Pat Head of Kaukauna in 2:49, Winneconne's Gary Schmidt halted East's Larry Turkow in 1:15 and Menasha's Mike Pagel picked up a near fall in the final seconds to edge Lee Van Deraa, Kimberly, 7-4.

Gary Reitzner, Menasha, Ron Schaefer, Brillion, and Warren Lessor, Little Chute, all won two bouts at 105.

Other double winners were Mark Nabbefeldt, Neenah, 112; Ken Manders, Wrightown, 119, Irvan Paul, Brillion, and Greg Grummer, East, 126, Steve Holschback, Mishicot, 132; Mike Kamps, East, Pete Keller, Brillion, and Chuck Harrer, Neenah, 138, Paul Fritsch, Wrightstown, 145; and Dan Huelsbeck, East, 167.

The only top-seeded grappler to fall was Jim Kempen, Kimberly 138 pounder with a 12-3-1 record, who was pinned by Menasha's Jim Weber (8-9-1) in three minutes.

The semi-final pairings follow:

Rockets Top Ghosts, 76-56; Moriarty Hits 46 for AHS-W

Neenah '5' Gains 17th Win in Row

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KAUKAUNA — After a close first half, the state's No. 1 ranked Neenah basketball team scorched the nets with a 59 per cent field goal rate in the last two periods and pulled away to a 76-56 victory over out-manned Kaukauna here Friday night.

The win was the 17th straight this season for the Rockets and their 11th consecutive triumph in the Fox Valley Association where they have already clinched the team championship.

Kaukauna slipped to a 2-9 record in the conference and the Ghosts have a 7-10 mark for the campaign.

The Ghosts made a battle out of it in the first two quarters before giving way to the superior height and bench strength of the Rockets.

Staged Comeback

Neenah jumped off to a 7-0 lead and it appeared that the rout was on. However, the Ghosts staged a comeback and fought to a 9-9 deadlock before Rick Matson's basket gave Neenah an 11-9 advantage at the end of the initial period. While the Rockets held the lead throughout the second quarter, the margin was never more than three points. Al Borchardt hit one of his patented long shots to make it 21-20 with the Rockets leading with 2 minutes remaining before halftime.

Then it was Matson who came off the bench after a short rest, to spark the Rockets. The lanky center dropped in a pair of free throws, canred a short jump and then made good on two more charity tosses. This made it 27-20 and Neenah had a somewhat more comfortable 29-22 lead at the intermission.

Warm in Gym

A combination of foul trouble and the extremely warm playing conditions in the Kaukauna gym Friday night created some problems for the Ghosts. Starting forward Karl Mueller had to leave the game before it was four minutes old as he was tooted for four personals. Starting center Dave Anderson picked up his fifth foul with 6:24

Papermakers Post 68-52 Win Over Menasha Bluejays

BY ED VAN BERKEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KIMBERLY — The Papermakers never trailed in a Fox Valley Association game here Friday night, rolling to a 68-52 win over the Menasha Bluejays before a happy parent's night crowd.

The win gives Kimberly a 7-4 conference record while the Bluejays concluded loop play with a 2-10 record. The winners have a game remaining against the Neenah Rockets next week.

Control of the backboards was a major factor in the Kimberly win as neither team had a really hot shooting night. Kimberly hit at a 40 per cent clip for the first half of play and about 38 per cent in the final half when Coach Jack Wippich gave all his players a chance to perform before their parents. The Jays meanwhile shot a cold 22 per cent in the first half and only slightly over 35 per cent in the second.

Short Jumper

Stan Swokowski opened the scoring for Kimberly with a short jumper after 1:36 gone in the game. Tom Aerts followed with a drive in to up the lead to four before Mark Keerner registered a free throw for Menasha with 4:54 remaining on the clock. Two more buckets by Swokowski and another by Aerts upped Kimberly's lead to seven after Keerner registered a bucket. The period ended 14-7 as the losers managed only two baskets in 14 tries.

Ten turnovers in the second period prevented Kimberly from building up a commanding lead, but the Papermakers still dominated play. The Jays pulled to within three points early in the period on baskets by Tom Behmke and Chris Speidel and two free throws by Koener, but Don Uelmen and John Appleton began to find the range and the winners began pulling away, leading 29-23 at halftime.

The winners registered eight goals to give for Menasha in the third period, but even more devastating was an 11-4 edge in rebounding. Kimberly built up a 15-point edge midway through the third frame and still led by 13 at the end of the quarter.

On Even Terms

The final period saw the teams play on near even terms from the floor as the reserves began seeing considerable action for the Papermakers, but an edge from the free throw line enabled them to continue to widen the margin. Don Uelman and Appleton led the Kimberly attack with 13 points while Tom Bohmke and Speidel each had 10 for the losers.

High scoring Jeff Pommerening, who scored 25 in the first meeting of the two teams, was limited to two baskets and five free throws. Kimberly hit on 14 of 20 from the free throw stripe while Menasha managed 16 of 26 tries.

Terror Quint Tops Indians By 93 to 58

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Tim Moriarty, Appleton West's 6-foot-5 bundle of devastating grace on a basketball court, let the Oshkosh Indians have it with both barrels Friday night .... and the results were history-making.

Moriarty scorched the nets for 46 points (in 27 minutes, 36 seconds), as the Terrors routed Oshkosh, 93-58, in Seims Gym.

In the most spectacular game of his 3-year varsity career, Moriarty hooped 21 of 30 floor attempts (including 10-for-11 in the second half), sank all four of his free throws and hauled down 15 rebounds. Using every shot in his extensive repertoire, Moriarty couldn't have posed any more problems for the OHS defense if he had been Lew Alcindor.

Before Coach Dick Emanuel had him call it a night, with 4:24 left in the game, Moriarty:

(1) Set an all-time school record of 21 baskets in a game.

(2) Scored the second highest point total in Terror history, with only Jerry Hopfensperger's 51 points on Feb. 27, 1953 exceeding it.

(3) Established a scoring record for the Fox Valley Association, which is one week away from concluding its inaugural season.

Peak Total

The Terrors, behind Moriarty, were at their free-wheeling best, as they ran and shot their way to their peak point total of the season. West the runnerup team in the FVA, boosted its league record to 8-3 and its overall mark to 13-4. Oshkosh is now 3-8 in conference play.

Ike Chestnut, who in the second quarter was about as hot as Moriarty, contributed 17 points to the Terror offense — with 16 of them coming in the

Cadets Down Zephyrs In Overtime by 73-72

MENASHA — Green Bay Premontre, which trailed most of the game, collected the first four points in a 3-minute overtime and went on to edge St. Mary High School, 73-72, in a Fox Valley Catholic Conference game Friday night.

Behind by one point, the Zephyrs gained possession after a missed Premontre free throw with six seconds remaining but Tim Wainscott's attempt from near the free throw line was off the mark.

It was Wainscott, who with 50 seconds left in the fourth period, scored a basket to create the 65-all deadlock and send the game into an extra session.

The Cadets controlled the ball after Wainscott's fielder, called two time outs and missed on a last second shot by Terry Young.

Mike Seija and Young opened the overtime with baskets before Wainscott added a free throw. Seija dropped in two more points for a 71-66 Cadet lead but Wainscott connected twice for the Menashans, narrowing the score to 71-70.

Zephyrs Within One

Kevin Heuvelmans netted the bays' last basket with 30 seconds left and Dave Michalkiewicz drew the Zephyrs to within one point with his bucket at the 10-second mark. A few seconds later Gary Rotherham was fouled and missed the free throw. The Zephyrs rebounded and the final shot followed.

The score had been deadlocked 15-all at the close of the first period and except for a couple of ties and a pair of 2-point leads by the cadets late in the fourth period, the Menashans were on the top end of the score.

They led, 24-17, at one juncture in the second period and Chuck Johnson's basket from near mid-court game then a 35-30 halftime edge. The score was 51-49 at the end of three segments.

Premontre made the first basket of the fourth period but St. Mary moved back ahead and had a 59-54 advantage with 4:30 left.

Later the count was knotted at 61 and 63 before Young gave the Cadets the lead with 1:35 left. Wainscott's tying fielder came 45 seconds later.

Young, 6-7 all-state football end, poured in 29 points to lead the winners. Heuvelmans added 20.

Wainscott topped St. Mary with 20. Tom Schultz dropped in 16. Chuck Johnson 12, Dan Bauer 11 and Michalkiewicz 10.

Hollway to St. Louis

Viking Aide Named to Head Post With Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bob Hollway says it was an "opportunity to win" that led him Friday to become the 2rd head coach of the St. Louis Cardinals, a team with budding National Football League title aspirations.

The 45-year-old Hollway, his candidacy for the post given little mention, was named to succeed Charley Winner by Card owners Stormy and Bill Bidwill.

Bob Hollway

"We think in Bob Hollway we have the man who can take us into the playoffs," Bill, the younger of the Bidwill brothers, said.

Hollway, brimming with confidence, predicted "discipline and execution and some bold football" can put the Cardinals in the role of an NFL title challenger immediately.

Solid Club

"The club is very solid," he said. "It is young, and yet it has good experience. If we get a total, dedicated effort from all our personnel, we'll be a winning football team."

Hollway, a native of Ann Arbor, Mich., and 1950 graduate of Michigan, ended a four-season term as defensive coach for the Minnesota Vikings under Coach Bud Grant to succeed Winner.

The former Michigan end played under Wolverine Coaches Fritz Crisler and Bennie Oosterbaan and was later head coach at Maine and at Eastern Michigan.

"I think three people have had the most influence on what I think about football and my philosophy toward the game," he said.

"Crisler was influential in his ability to discipline ... Ben Oosterbaan helped in his wisdom and thinking ... and Bud Grant has the ability to get the performance."

Known for having welded together Minnesota's defensive "Purple People Eaters," Hollway said superior Cardinal speed may "allow us to do certain things we could not do with the Vikings."

"The Cardinals have three of the fastest receivers in the NFL, strong running backs and a strong weapon in the arm of their quarterback," he said. "In these areas they have more than we did last year with the Vikings."

Still, he said, I believe in sound football. Sound football involves making the fewest mistakes and at the same time forcing errors by the opponents."

Hortonville Leads Regional Mat Test

BY ROGER PITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEW LONDON — Hortonville, one of the favorites, took the quarter-final lead in the New London Regional wrestling tournament with 37 points, while New London — another favorite — was second with 31.

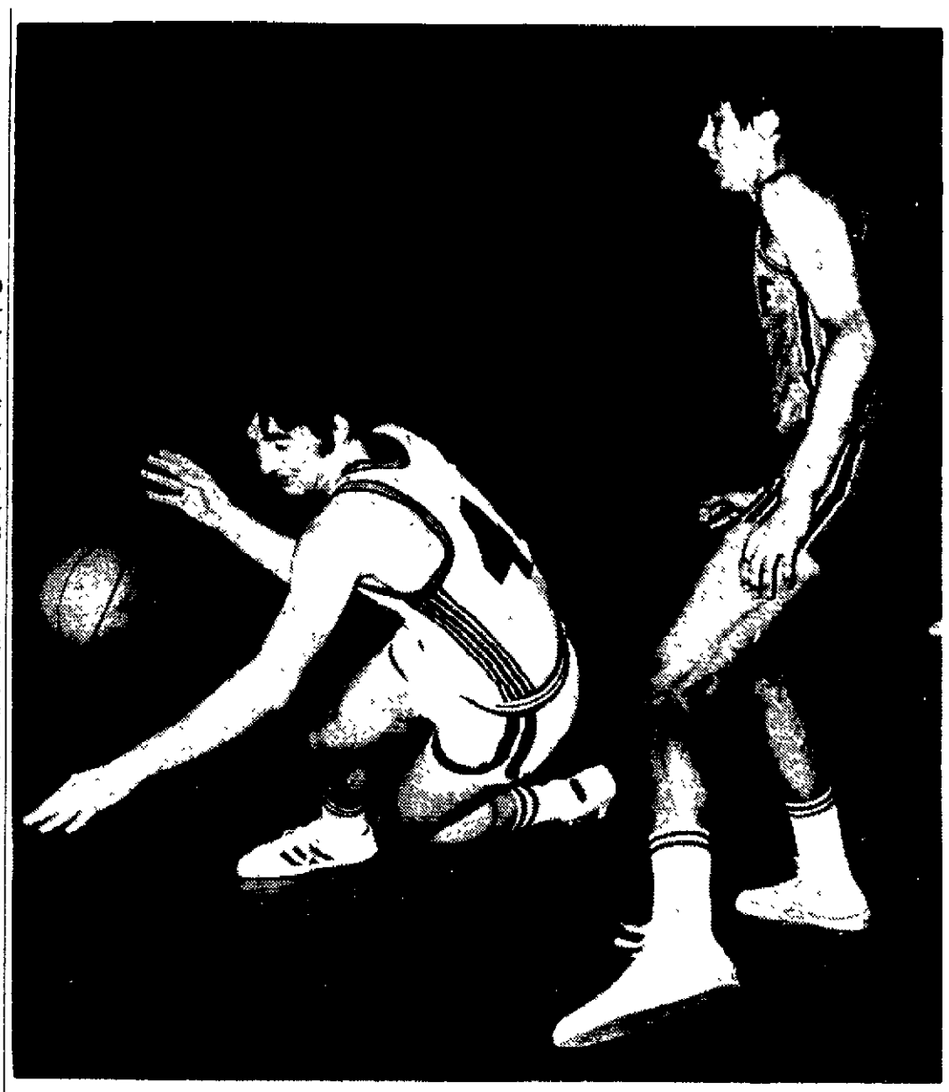

The Polar Bears had 10 wrestlers alive, while New London has seven in today's semi-final and championship round. Mat action began at 2 p.m.

Other team scores and the number of wrestlers in parenthesis are Seymour 25 (6), Green Bay East 19 (5), Freedom 17 (6), Weyauwega 16 (3), Ashwaubenon 15 (4), Green Bay Southwest 14 (3), De Pere 13 (3), West De Pere 3 (1), and Clintonville 1 (0).

Few upsets occured in the elimination rounds, but two top-seeded wrestlers never made it into competition. Seymour's Roy Vande Hei, 17-3-1, and De Pere's Mike Milquet, 12-9-1, both were scratched in the 132 pound competition — throwing what looked like the tourney's best class into an apparent battle between Southwest's Mike Haney and Hortonville's Conrad Becher.

New London's Mark Williams pulled a major upset at 138 pounds in the elimination round. Williams (8-10-1) got a second period reversal on number two seed, Paul VandenLangdenberg of De Pere and rode out the remainder of the bout. The loser had a 15-6 record.

Bonduel Clinches CW Title

Bonduel High School boosted its flawless Central Wisconsin Conference record to 10-0, and tucked away the undisputed league crown by downing second place Little Chute (7-3), 72-56, here Friday night.

In other CWC action, Marion (6-5) beat Shiocton (2-9), 72-59, while Manawa (4-7) outlasted Wautoma (1-9), 67-58.

The Bears used a full-court press in limiting the visitors to a mere six points in the first quarter, Mike Eisch and Jim Reinke helped the eventual winners score 17 points by the end of the segment.

In the second quarter, Eisch and Reinke swished eight apiece as the bears stormed into the locker room sporting a comfortable 42-22 advantage.

Steven Mollen, the Mustangs' scoring ace, managed only two buckets in the first three periods, and totaled 16 points for the night. Gary VanHandel paced the loser's efforts with 17, while Dick Hackel made 11.

7 Steals, 7 Assists

Eisch led all scorers with 19. Reinke scored 18 points, made seven steals, and contributed seven assists to the winning cause. Mike Boettcher added 17 for Bonduel. Both teams hit on 32 per cent from the floor, but the Bears scored 25 buckets, while limiting the Chuters to 19.

Kent Brandenburg swished 17 field goals and added three gift tosses for a 37-point total in leading Marion (6-5) to the win over Shiocton.

Brandenburg, who took a total of 27 shots from the floor, was extremely accurate from the outside. His 20 points in the first half enabled the Mustangs to take a 38-35 lead at intermission.

Dick Clausen, who finished the game with 25 points, kept the eventual losers in the game until Marion outscored them, 18-11, in the third segment to put the game out of reach.

The only other Mustang player to hit in double figures was Goodwin Peterson, who popped in 21. Jeff Johnson meshed 16 for the Chiefs, and Rick Puffe added 10.

Wautoma's loss to Manawa was its ninth straight in league play. A 21-14 advantage after the first quarter gave Manawa a good start, and the Wolves led all the way.

Jim Sexton sank 20 points in leading a quartet of double-figures scorers for the winners, while Steve Norem and Joe Netzler shared Hornet laurels with 16 markers apiece.

Ripon Edges New London, Leads ECC

Ripon High School is in control of the East Central Conference bid for the basketball crown today after dealing New London a 61-58 defeat Friday before a jammed house at home.

John Radke, a 6-5 pivot, led the winners with 21 points, with Kyle Wiggs contributing 17 and Steve Stellmacher 16. Dave Teschke tallied 20 and Gary Wendt 17 for New London.

Oshkosh Players Keep 'Cactus Flower' Funny

Comedy of Misunderstandings Bright, Fast-Paced Under Director Dale Klitzke

BY JAMES AUER
Post-Crescent Sunday Editor

OSHKOSH — Abe Burrows is a very funny man, and although "Cactus Flower" is by no means his funniest script, it has moved serviceable both on the professional stage (with Lauren Bacall in the leading role) and in stock.

First of the area's non-professional theaters to tackle this technically complex bundle of misunderstandings, impostures, transformations and miscellaneous matings is the Oshkosh Community Players, Inc.

The production, which opened Thursday at the Grand Theater, has its final performance tonight at 8:15.

Pleasant Surprise

Having seen "Cactus Flower" some years ago in a touring company, this reviewer was prepared for the worst as the curtain rose on director Dale Klitzke's staging of what is essentially a Parisian sex farce transformed, both in manner and in milieu, into a New York comedy of confusion.

For one thing, the script requires four major sets (with eight scene changes in the first act alone). For another, the pace required to carry off this type of farcical romp calls on a level of energy that non-professional actors are not always able to summon up.

It came as a pleasant surprise, therefore, to discover that director Klitzke had nicely anticipated both objections, and that his well-drilled cast was running through its comedic paces on a revolving stage which cut to a very minimum scene changes which otherwise could have been irritatingly time consuming.

As a result, "Cactus Flower," in the hands of the Oshkosh company, provided the first-night audience with a lively and diverting, if not exactly intellectual, evening of knockabout fun.

Funny Plot

The plot, on which all the farcical complications hang, concerns a well-to-do bachelor dentist (played by Harvey Moss) who has convinced his girl friend (Sarah Moore) that he is a married man with three children. When he finally decides to legalize their relationship, he must somehow dispose of this prefabricated family.

The answer, of course, is to ask his strait-laced office nurse (Mary Ann Nevitt) to impersonate the nonexistent wife in an interview with the mistress. But then the girl demands to know why the wife is letting him divorce her. And so it goes.

The proceedings are peppered with clever lines and amusing minor characters — a plumpish dowager who insists that each visit to the dentist be an ego trip (Jean Zahalka) and a Latin American diplomat with "an eye for hidden beauty" (Chuck Pommerening) — and the story builds to a mad "obligatory scene" in which all of the principals compound their misunderstandings in a night club setting.

As the serious-minded mistress, pretty Sarah Moore has perhaps the most consistently believable role, and invests it with considerable conviction. Mary Ann Nevitt is well cast as the nurse.

Difficult Part

And in perhaps the most difficult assignment of all, that of the dentist trapped by his own machinations, Harvey Moss keeps the plot going in rapid-fire fashion, even though on occasion his reactions verge on mugging.

Bruce Rothe is likeable and energetic as Igor Sullivan, but his youth works against him in his characterization of a struggling New York playwright, subsidized from home.

Klitzke's blocking is clean and natural; the climactic night club scene, however, still needed work on opening night.

Diction, always a problem in a theater as big as the Grand, was quite good, but projection could be improved for all of the actors — especially when, as in this instance, they must compete against very loud recorded music during major scenes.

Sets and lighting are effectively handled, and the revolving stage — as mentioned before — is a major plus to the production.

De Pere Stockbroker Requests Jury Trial On Charges of Fraud

A De Pere stockbroker, John Van Dreel, 37, requested a jury trial Friday after pleading innocent to a charge of fraud.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer scheduled trial for March 11. Van Dreel remained free on a $1,500 signature bond. He was bound over to the court by Schaefer Thursday after a preliminary hearing.

A complaint charges that Van Dreel took and used for himself $2,500 he received from an Appleton couple on the pretense he would invest it for them. The offenses, detectives charge, occurred between Dec. 19, 1969, and last March 11.

Post Corp Earnings at $1.03 a Share

Liquidation of Subsidiary Brings 22-Cent Decrease

A loss on liquidation of a subsidiary reduced Post Corporation's 1970 earnings to $1.03 per share compared with $1.24 a year earlier, it was announced today.

Post's operating earnings before the special loss totaled $930,944, or $1.25 per share, compared with $924,952 in the previous year.

President V. I. Minahan said the loss was incurred when the subsidiary, Ken-Com, Inc., was liquidated into the parent corporation in December. The write-down of Post's investment in Ken-Com, a Milwaukee communications engineering firm, amounted to 22 cents per Post share and included both goodwill and a reduction of inventory values, he said.

Post's newspaper, broadcasting and commercial printing operations also showed lower operating earnings during 1970, but this dip was more than made up for by a substantial increase in the profits of All-Star Insurance Corp. Post owns 97.4 per cent of the insurance company which contributed earnings amounting to 25 cents per Post share for 1970.

Post Corporation, headquartered in Appleton, owns four VHF television stations, four radio stations, three daily newspapers, one weekly and one semiweekly located in Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Michigan and Illinois. It also owns West Bend Printing Inc. and Fox Print, commercial printing firms in West Bend and Appleton; All-Star Insurance Corp., Milwaukee; INRECO, Los Angeles, specialists in excess-surplus lines insurance; and Post Financial Corporation, Hinsdale, Ill., which finances insurance premium payments.

Five Persons Hurt In 3-Car Collision North of Shiocton

SHIOCTON — Five persons were injured, none seriously, in a three-car accident on State 187, about six miles north of here, at 1:35 a.m. today.

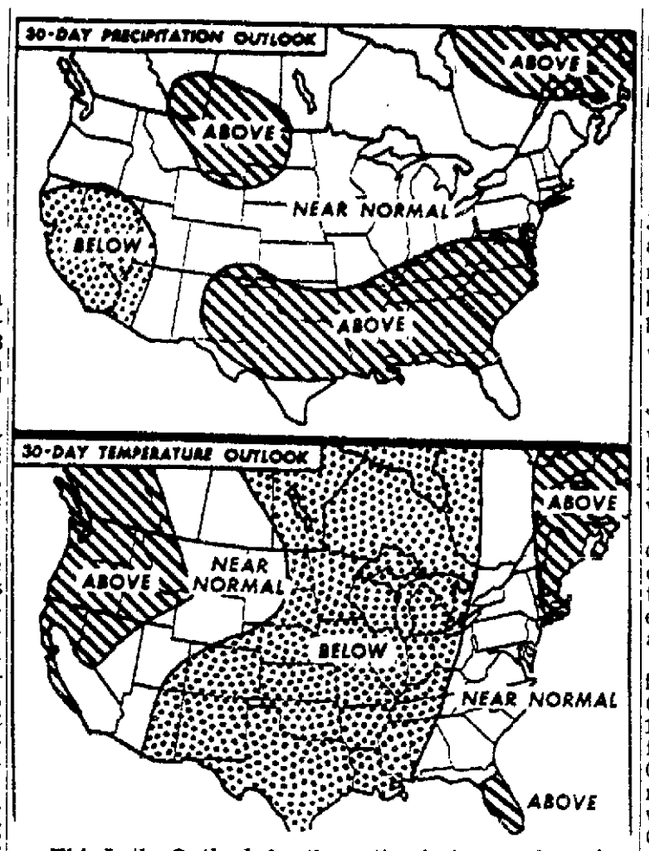

Outagamie County police said that cars involved were driven by Francis G. Planert, 29, route 1, Shiocton; Steven A. Hauser, 18, route 1, Black Creek, and Martin Van Patten, 18, route 1, Black Creek.

Planert and Joanna Planert 20, also of route 1, Shiocton, suffered forehead cuts; Betty Gruetzmacher, Alexandria, W. Va., a passenger in the Planert car, suffered leg and chest bruises; Robert Knorr, 18, Shiocton, a passenger in the Van Patten auto, suffered an eye injury, and Van Patten sustained a forehead bruise.

Police, who said they were still investigating details of the accident, reported that Planert was northbound on 187 and the other two cars were southbound. All three vehicles were extensively damaged.

Police Catch 4 Youths In Suspected Burglary

Two of four teen-agers suspected of burglarizing a Hollandtown store early today were taken into custody in Appleton along with a pickup truck that authorities believe was stolen.

The other two suspects were apprehended, one near the burglary scene, by Brown County authorities.

The burglary at Geenen's Market was reported to the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department at 12:15 a.m. by a woman who lives above the store. She told authorities she heard glass break and she believed the burglars were still in the building. Outagamie police notified the Brown County Sheriff's Department.

Area enforcement agencies were notified a short time later that the suspects might have left the scene in a red, 1964 pickup truck.

Appleton police stopped the truck in the 1900 block of N. Richmond Street about 12:55 a.m. Two boys, 15 and 16 years, were in the truck. Neither had a driver's license.

Police said the truck, apparently stolen from a Green Bay parking lot, was owned by Harvey Metoxen of Oneida.

Both boys were placed in juvenile detention after being questioned. Police said they offered no resistence.

Another boy reportedly was walking near the burglary scene when Brown County police apprehended him. The fourth suspect was taken into custody several hours later in DePere. All of the juveniles are from the Green Bay-DePere area, authorities said.

The burglars apparently were frightened away from the market by a station wagon that stopped in front of the building. Police found bags of candy and other items that were left behind in the store.

Ex-Partner Is Awarded $161,000

A Milwaukee Circuit Court jury's December decision awarding an Appleton businessman $161,000 for an alleged breach of a business obligation by his former business partner was upheld Friday by the judge.

The jury had awarded Gerald Jolin the money in a case in which Jolin charged his former partner in Campfire Land Co., Inc., John Oster Jr., Fox Point, with a breach of his obligation.

Campfire was formed to subdivide and sell rural land for cottage, sites and other recreational uses in central and northern Wisconsin. Jolin is no longer associated with the firm.

Jolin originated the Appleton firm in the 1950s and invited Oster to become a partner in 1961 because of the latter's financial contacts, Jolin said. Oster, vice president and director of Deltrol Controls, Milwaukee, is former president of Oster Mfg. Co., Milwaukee, now a Sunbeam Corp. subsidiary.

During the three-week trial, Jolin's attorneys contended that Oster used his financial strength to take over Campfire. They said that Oster made secret profits at the expense of Jolin and their partnership.

Oster denied the charges.

The 12-member jury found that Oster had breached his duties as partner.

Youth's Sentence Extended for 5 More Felonies

Three more years to run concurrently with a sentence imposed Thursday were ordered Friday when a 20-year-old Appleton youth was convicted on an additional five felony counts.

Five new burglary charges were lodged Friday against Scott Stroud, 218 E. Winnebago St. He pleaded guilty to the counts before Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer.

Stroud admitted his involvement in five recent Appleton break-ins to detectives after Schaefer passed sentence Thursday for attempted burglary and possession of burglary tools for an incident Feb. 3 at Quaker Dairy, 125 E. Pacific St.

Stroud pleaded guilty Friday to burglaries at The Ultimate, 1101 W. Wisconsin Ave., Dec. 24; Lyman's Shoe Service 309 W. College Ave., Dec. 28; the home of Jay Thompson, 927½ W. Lorain St., Jan. 4; Kay's Restaurant, 343 W. Wisconsin Ave., Jan. 9, and the Appleton Furniture Mart, 205 W. Wisconsin Ave., Jan 28.

Authorities said the greatest loss was reported by Lyman's, where $1,000 in cash was taken.

New Reading Program Used at Hortonville

HORTONVILLE — Education can progress only when there are people who are willing to try new approaches to the art of teaching. Students at the elementary level in the Hortonville school district are among several groups in the state that have the opportunity to experience just such new approaches.

The emphasis of the Hortonville program is on reading skills. It is run in a nongraded manner, using students six, seven and eight years old. The program is part of a statewide endeavor called PACT (Participating to Activate Change Today), or more specifically, IGE (Individually Guided Education)

Mrs. Jean Larsen, reading teacher at the school, explained "each child's needs are evaluated, and then met through small group reading instruction." Under this program students may be six, seven or eight years old, and yet be in the same skills group.

The groups are designed for a three week program, so if a student can master the skill, he may either do independent study or be advanced into another area.

The student's level is determined through testing.

Testing is done through the Wisconsin Design for Reading program. Students must achieve an 80 or better on the test before the skill is considered mastered. Also used to aid the process is an individual chart that measures progress.

The education involves 100 students, four teachers and a teacher's aid. There is a leader for the group who schedules student needs.

Teachers teach different skills and different students, and through these alterations it is hoped they can advance their own teaching methods.

Mrs. Larsen likened the technique to that of an intensive care unit, where each student is monitored by four teachers. She said that the program has a policy of daily evaluation, from the social standpoint as well as the reading.

Other area school systems involved in the reading phase of PACT are Neenah, Menasha, and Appleton. The schools meet monthly to exchange ideas — "one of the greatest things that has happened," noted Hortonville principal Eugene Riedl. "We are not big and little schools but professional educators exchanging ideas," he said.

Mrs. Larsen said teachers also feel they gain through the program.

Second graders already are working on independant study and are learning to use the Instructional Materials Center to develop interests. Students have developed their own transparencies for use on overhead projectors.

Riedl noted that the faculty experiences a continual in-service program as a result of the teaching techniques. "When it can make a good teacher better, it is a good thing."

Appleton Youth Put on Year's Probation on Drug Charges

A 17-year-old Appleton boy, waived into adult court Friday on a charge brought Thursday night of possessing a dangerous drug was placed on a year's probation Friday after he pleaded guilty.

Appleton detectives charged Robert James Green, 6042 Rosewood Drive, with possessing marijuana. Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer, in accordance with recently changed state statutes, made no finding of guilt or innocence. If Green maintains a clear record while on probation, the offense will be stricken permanently from his record.

The youth was waived from the Juvenile Court before being brought before Schaefer Friday.

A patrolman discovered Green to be one of two teen-agers in a parked car downtown Thursday night. When the driver's side window of the auto was rolled down, the officer smelled something like burning leaves. He radioed for a detective.

During a search, authorities found a plastic bag on Green which contained a leafy substance. A later check of the material at the police station proved it to be marijuana. Green admitted to detectives that the material was marijuana before the tests were made, authorities said.

A 16-year-old Appleton girl, who police said was seated in the car with Green, was released to her parents after questioning. Another youth, in his late teens or early twenties, who police said walked from the parked car to a nearby home as the patrolman approached, was returned to Winnebago State Hospital.

The youth told police he was on 30-day leave, and wanted to go back. He said he had recently experienced difficulty with drugs. An investigation is continuing.

remaining in the third period and Mueller fouled out shortly after he got back in action in the final stanza.

Spectators were fanning themselves to try and keep cool and the heat undoubtedly took its toll on the Ghosts who had to go practically the whole route with five or six players. Meanwhile, the Rockets, with their strong bench substituted freely as Coach Ron Einerson kept his boys fresh all the way.

After the close first half, Neenah pulled away by swishing through 27 points in the third period while the Ghosts were held to 16. The Rockets dropped in 13 of 16 from the floor with Bill Schultz leading the way with six field goals.

Matson Hits 26

Rick Matson was the leading scorer for Neenah with 26 points and Schultz was close behind with 22.

For Kaukauna, Leon Franzke paced the point parade with 22 markers. Sixteen of Franke's points came in the second half as he began to connect from the outside. Borchardt was the only other Kaukauna player in double figures as he added 12.

NEENAH (11-18-27-20 — 76) Bouressa 0 0 3, Rodgers 2 0 4, Hawley 3 2 3, Crist 3 2 1, Schultz 8 6 2, Matson 9 8 2, Loker 2 2 0, Holinbeck 0 0 1, Ryan 1 0 0. Totals 28-20-16. FTM — 10.

first half. Chestnut attempted no field shots in the second half.

In one of the big surprises of the explosive night, Rich Reitzner accounted for only one of the Terrors' 93 points. Reitzner, the Terrors' season-long scoring leader, was content to pass off to his hot-haned teammates . . . . and he was as uncommonly good in this phase of the game as he usually is in his shooting. Reitzner was credited with a season high total of 11 assists. The senior guard attempted only two shots — getting fouled on one of them and having the other blocked.

Mathe Scores 20

Oshkosh checked in with two double-figure scorers. Dave Mathe sank seven of 10 shots and totaled 20 points. Craig Whitney, the Indians' usual scoring leader, was held to 1 points.

The Indians led only twice, 1-0 and 3-2. Moriarty draped in a pair of free throws, with 6:48 left in the firt quarter, and the Terrors led (4-3), never to be overhauled.

Moriarty established early what kind of a night it would be. He fired home his team's first eight points — a baseline swisher after a pass from Chestnut, two free throws, a short baseline jumper and a tip-in. Tim also produced the period's final six points for West, giving him a 14-point start and the Terrors a 23-13 lead.

2 Strings of 12

Moriarty continued with quarters of 10, 14 and eight points. Twice, he ran off strings of 12 straight West points. At first, OHS' Ron Heppler tried guarding Moriarty, 1-on-1, then the Indians tried a combination press and zone. But the big center broke loose continually for pivot shots, drives, jump shots and rebounds.

At intermission time, Moriarty had 24 points and Chestnut 16 to account for all but seven of their team's total in building a 47-31 lead.

With 1:03 gone of the final period, Moriarty had totaled 44 points while the entire OHS team had managed only 42. Two more potential Moriarty baskets were taken away because of Terror violations on the scoring plays.

In the second half the fast-breaking Terrors flipped in 20 of 33 shots. For the game, West shot 52.6 per cent (40 of 76). Oshkosh, which was harassed into 23 turnovers, attempted only 43 shots all night, but converted on 19 of them (for 44.2 per cent).

Sin Is a No No To New Cultists

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The acid heads of Sunset Strip know them as Jesus Freaks. Duane Pederson in Hollywood calls them Jesus People. Down on skid row they call themselves Children of God.

By any name, they're part of Southern California's youthful Jesus Movement, a largely churchless theological new wave that to the uninitiated appears to be Billy Graham as explained by Timothy Leary.

You can see its signs—"Sin is a No-No"—sprayed in red on the Rev. Arthur Blessitt's black panel truck near the Sunset Strip, a gaudy arena for the hippie life-style also favored by drug users and pushers.

You can read about it in Pederson's "Hollywood Free Paper," a religious underground newspaper whose classified ads tell of 'Jesus Teach-Ins, Bible Raps and Jesus People Centers."

Rescue Mission

Or you can hear about it from any of the 170 Children of God now spreading the Bible's teachings from their headquarters at a skid row rescue mission owned by a fundamentalist television preacher. Not one is over 30 and many of them are barely 20.

Blessitt, who since 1967 has ministered to hippies on the Strip, estimates that between 75,000 and 100,000 young Californians now are "irrevocably committed to the Jesus Movement."

"It's unorganized and there's no spirit of competition among groups," said the 30-year-old Greenville, Miss., native, whose church—a sign calls it "His Place"—is a ramshackle two-story building.

Street Christians

The Movement—by most estimates it caught fire in 1968-69—is aimed at youth and led by Bible-studying young fundamentalists who seek evangelistic "Street Christians."

Some use the language of the drug culture as a lure. Blessitt's "Turn on to Jesus" sticker and Pederson's "I'm High on the Love of My Jesus" bumper stickers abound.

However, all reject the hippie culture's drug scene, permissive sex and most social action protests while adopting the gentle, peace-to-all approach that was the trademark of the early "flower children" movement.

"I haven't had a down day since I found the Lord," says Bob McDonald, 23, a Children of God member who admits he smoked marijuana and was a heavy drug user before joining the Jesus Movement.

A Wild Indian

"I was a pretty wild Indian," McDonald, a thin, blonde-haired Miami Beach native says. "I used to surf on both coasts, just looking for kicks. Then I met one of the Children of God two years ago.

"I was down at Huntington Beach, trying to score some grass and I thought he had some. He told me no, and tried to tell me about Christ. Well, naturally, I laughed. But he kept after me for eight months.

"Now I'm here. What really drew me was their love, their sincerity. And we're trying to help others—mainly hippies in the Los Angeles area, the orphans of the system."

The Movement has no central denomination, leadership or headquarters. It operates under different leaders in Anaheim, Berkeley, Redondo Beach and San Jose, to name a few.

Crossed Country

The Children of God, for example, was a wandering religious tribe led by Arnold "Joshua" Dietrich, 29. It began 2½ years ago in his native New York City and picked up converts as it traveled the country, preaching the Bible in a fast-growing caravan of cars and buses.

It found a home at the rescue mission eight months ago, shortly after the mission's owner, the Rev. Fred Jordan, allowed the group to set up a training headquarters at his 400-acre ranch near Thurber, Tex., about 70 miles west of Fort Worth.

Dietrich says converts taken in at the rescue mission are sent to Texas for intensive religious training. Then they're sent out to preach the Bible and make other youthful "street people" converts to Christ.

Free Newspaper

Pederson, a soft-voiced 32 year-old entertainer from Hastings, Minn., began his twice-monthly free religious newspaper 15 months ago on an impulse after observing the huge success of nonreligious "underground" papers.

"I said to myself, God, what's wrong with us Christians that we don't realize that this is the way to reach the kids," he said.

The Hollywood Free Paper has grown from its first press run of 10,000 to 200,000 papers distributed in 48 states, he added.

Pederson's efforts are supported by donations and the sale of his religious bumper stickers and posters.

He's organized two religious rock festivals at the Hollywood Palladium and four more are planned, and he's planning a summer-long religious festival in Hollywood.

He also is organizing "Jesus People" training centers for the young run by Bible instructors from established religious seminaries who send their students to the streets and beaches to preach the Bible.

Ordained Ministers

He also is founder of Jesus People Church, Inc., based at his modest stucco home in Hollywood. The church was established to give a tax exemption to his efforts in the Jesus Movement, but it already has ordained five ministers empowered by the state to perform marriages and function as do ministers of long-established denominations.

Pederson, like others interviewed, didn't see the Jesus Movement as another short-lived fad among California's young.

"These kids are trying to find satisfaction," he said. "They've tried everything—sex, drugs, you name it—and now they're finding satisfaction in Jesus," he said.

Your Problems

Bob's Letter to Teacher a Cry for Help

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The problem isn't mine — it's the whole family's. My mother thinks my brother Bob (age 12) needs a psychiatrist because he failed in every subject. Only last week the teacher told Mom that Bob is one of the smartest kids she has seen in all her years of teaching, but he is "unmotivated." On top of failing everything, Bob wrote a note to the teacher the day after he got his report card. He told her he hates his whole family including me. I'm 14 years old and I always thought Bob was my friend. Do you think my brother needs a psychiatrist? He seems normal to me, although he is quite lazy. Thank you. — Big Sis

Dear Sis: A kid who fails every subject and writes his teacher a note saying he hates his family needs outside help. His problem goes deeper than laziness. He has a desire to fail which is probably related to his parents' eagerness for him to succeed.

Bob's letter to the teacher was a cry for help. He was unleashing pent-up hostility. I hope your parents see to it that he gets counseling. He needs it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A man with whom I have been very friendly (we work in the same office) invited me to his daughter's wedding. Mr. R. told me I could bring my boyfriend, but if we had other plans it would be okay and to let him know.

As it turned out, we did have other plans. I sent a gift and thought no more about it. The wedding was yesterday. This morning when Mr. R. saw me in the office he gave me a very cold hello. After three hours of sub-zero treatment, he really let me have it. He said my not showing up for his daughter's wedding proved that I was a phony friend.

Did I do something horrible, or is he the phony friend for not being understanding? — Philadelphia Inquirer

Dear Philly: The quality of our relationships is shaped by the choices we make. The fact that you did not state in your letter what your boyfriend had planned instead, leads me to believe that you could have attended the wedding had you wanted to. Your co-worker obviously had this feeling, also. In my opinion you made a poor choice and it has cost you a friend.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband has been seeing a married woman with three children for two years. I had no idea what was going on. Ed told me, out of a clear blue sky, that he needed to live away from home for a while because the kids made him nervous. The following week I caught Ed with this woman. He confessed everything, begged me to forgive him and moved back home.

A few days later Ed became despondent and told me the whole sordid story. He asked me to give up my job and stay home with him because he was afraid of what he might do to himself if he were left alone. (Ed works the night shift and I work days.) I stayed home for three weeks and listened to him repeat every detail of his love affair over and over until I thought I'd lose my mind. Yesterday the woman telephoned to say she has confessed everything to her husband and he has forgiven her. She ended by saying, "Now, please let me alone."

Ed is very depressed. He has threatened to shoot her and himself. I'm afraid to leave him alone. What should I do? — M. M. M.

Dear M. M. M.: Talk to your doctor and take his advice. If your husband needs to be committed, sign the papers for your sake as well as for his. And I hope both you and Ed go back to work at once — on the same shift if possible.

Music Old Love For Man at 72

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Wally Christ is a young 72 who makes it happen with the clarinet, the bass fiddle, the accordion and the electric bass.

"I've been at music 52 years and wouldn't give it up for anything," says this son of a farmer who augments his Social Security and keeps in touch with show business by working as a doorman at the Triples Theater in Lancaster.

Though he folded up his own combo a year ago he never turns down a chance to perform.

"I'll go out and play bass fiddle with any outfit," he says. Christ taught himself on all the instruments although he tried to acquire a little formal musicianship at the Boston Conservatory of Music while he served in the Army a half century ago.

Hearing Scheduled for Zone Change in Waupaca County

WAUPACA—A public hearing will be conducted at 10 a.m. Feb. 23, before the Waupaca County zoning committee for the purpose of discussing possible zone changes at Camp Cleghorn. The meeting will be at the courthouse

"It is the intent of the Good Templars, who own Camp Cleghorn, to brighten up the place," Walter Clura, chairman of the Dayton town board and member of the zoning committee, explained

The petition requests that a portion of the Good Templar's 30 acres be rezoned for park and recreational purposes. Currently it is zoned single and multifamily residential and general commercial.

At present there are cottages, mobile homes, trailers and year long homes located on the plot; however, no residents own property. Titles rest with the Good Templars.

All who wish to be heard are invited to the hearing.

OSU Student Cooperative Gets Grant

$9,876 for Academic Advancement Group Presented Today

OSHKOSH — A cooperative organized by a group of concerned Oshkosh State University (OSU) students has caught the interest of the federal government.

As a result, the U. S. Office of Education is providing a $9,876 grant for the operation of Academic Advancement Cooperative by these students This is one of the first such grants by the Office of Education to a student group.

Joseph Murnin, acting assistant commissioner for the middle western region, presented the research grant to students Friday when he met with them in Dempsey Hall.

The grant goes to the university as the official institution where the student-conceived, student-operated project is to be conducted. Funds are to be used for student salaries and supplies to carry out the research project.

Purpose of the cooperative is to promote student-to-student academic assistance, according to William Gray, a School of Education senior from Oshkosh, who is serving as project director.

The research, Gray outlined, will establish a model program for developing a student-initiated and -operated organization to provide special services and facilities for OSU students needing help in their studies.

These would be students with handicaps in their educational backgrounds, who may need to learn how to study, how to take tests and what services are available to them at the university to help them get through school.

The idea for the cooperative began with a group of students who buttonholed Murin when he was on the OSU campus last spring to speak to research directors of the Wisconsin State Universities system.

They stopped him in the hall as he was leaving for the airport and told him of their plan. Correspondence followed.

Among the students participating at the first meeting and active in organizing the cooperative were Patricia Bentzler of Loyal, Jeannette Lawver of Black Earth, Daniel Burrus of Brookfield, and Gray. Burrus now is serving as associate director of the research project.

Present officers of the 150-member cooperative are Lois Rentmeester, Eden, a graduate student, president; Lynette Gibbs, Oshkosh sophomore, vice president: and Sandra Enderby a sophomore from De Pere. secretary and treasurer

Bill Introduced to Allocate Liquor Tax to Veterans

State Sen. Myron Lotto, Green Bay, has introduced legislation to allocate part of the State liquor tax revenues to the veterans trust fund.

"Prior to the Korean War part of the liquor tax revenues were transferred to the veterans trust fund. This provision was eliminated during the war when the number of veterans was low," Lotto said.

"This bill will reactivate the former law It will allocate 50 per cent of these revenues to the veterans trust fund, after the liquor tax program administrative and enforcement expenses are deducted," he said.

The Veterans Trust Fund provides loans to veterans who show need for medical or educational purposes. It helps veterans finance the construction or improvement of their own homes and operates the G.A.R Memorial Hall in the State Capitol

"My bill has strong bipartisan support from Legislators from all over the state I expect it to receive rapid approval."

Students Sell Lots of Magazines

CLINTONVILLE — Local junior high school students sold a total of $5,210 in magazine subscriptions this year, $1,000 more than in last years campaign.

The net profit should run approximately $1,300, according to Gilbert Johnson, faculty chairman of the school's annual project to raise money to purchase school equipment not included in the school board's annual budget The profit from last year and this year amounts to over $2,500 A portable video-tape recorder and camera are this year's intended purchases.

A dance for students was held Friday night, with $200 in cash drawings awarded. More than $400 in merchandise prizes were awarded during the sales campaign and there were daily prizes in the home rooms The home rooms of Jay Sharp and Earl Paape had the highest total sales and were awarded a huge stuffed dog

Selling magazines has been a project at junior high school since 1957, according to Principal Rey Laske

The magazine profits, he said must buy something many students use and want, that is not included in the school board's general budget. Students help make the decision on how to spend the money

Appleton to Check On Its Air Quality

Solid particles and sulphur dioxide gas in Appleton air will be monitored by the Health Department starting later this month, Peter LeMere, assistant city health commissioner reported

The program, sponsored by the Department of Natural Resources, will be the city's first long-term air quality monitoring program.

LeMere told the Board of Health that his office is in the process of selecting sites for monitoring stations that will operate on a regular basis for at least the next year.

The monitoring will be done at the sites on a schedule of about once every two weeks. Between regular monitoring at the sites, sampling will be conducted at additional sites to round out the picture of air quality variations between sections of the city.

LeMere said that the Air Pollution Control Section of DNR has provided his office with two particulate matter samplers and one for measuring sulphur dioxide.

Particulates include materials such as dust and some elements in smoke Sulphur dioxide is a waste commonly associated with burning of petrolium fuels.

The city health staff will mail the filters from the particulate samplers to the State Hygiene Laboratory in Madison, and will make initial sulphur dioxide tests in the city laboratory for interpretation by DNR technicians, he said.

The measuring units are portable, weighing 35 to 40 pounds each. One particulate sampler will be located in the downtown area, and sites are being selected for the others.

The DNR has recommended samples to be taken for 26 full days spaced over a year in a downtown location preferably atop a building, to give a year's picture of particulate pollution

The first sampling date set by the DNR timetable is Feb 27

LeMere said that the equipment is not the type needed to test pollution emitted from specific sources, though it might be used to measure air quality in the vicinity of a suspected pollution source such as a factory smokestack.

Floodplain Rules Won't Hurt Development of Valley Cities

Fox Valley municipal technicians apparently are convinced the state's hard line on floodplain zoning standards won't hamper valley development but many left a meeting Thursday confused about the state's reasoning

The State Department of Natural Resources (DNR) floodplain management section called the meeting to explain to communities that they must meet the state standard in floodplain mapping or ordinances — the chief requirement being that they use the 1881 flood profile instead of the 1960 flood data

However, state technicians and municipal representatives became entangled in semantics and lengthy explanations, and municipal technicians apparently left with little more than optimism that their floodplain areas — land near area lakes and rivers — won't be altered seriously

Not Too Difficult

There apparently was a feeling that communities which hadn't delineated floodplain areas could satisfy the state while the ones who have delineated and have had ordinances returned for amendments could make these without serious changes

In fact, Green Bay apparently can reduce the flood protection level which their present delineations show

Flood protection level apparently caused the most confusion Elvin Meyer, management section assistant chief, said this wasn't necessarily an indication of how far from the river or lake the floodplain extended, but could mean the height to which buildings located in the floodplain should be water proofed

The floodplain area doesn't stop construction but can restrict it and also demands that buildings meet certain flood protection standards, such as water-proofing Some local officials feared industrial parkland would be affected by the standards

Protect Communities

State officials said the state's concern was to protect the communities But, Lawrence Michaels, Fox Valley Council of Governments public works director, noted "This doesn't mean you have to zone every industry out of business to protect the floodway"

Michaels told the state that this area is unique because it has numerous spillways and Lake Winnebago's reservoir capacities to control water levels during flooding time

No Information

State officials disagreed that this would necessarily work and said the lake cannot be used "arbitrarily" as a flood control because of federal lake level requirements

Michaels also said the state had no information on 1881 flood levels — it supposedly was the highest flood level for a 100-year period. He said the 1960 flood level would provide more accurate information on flooding potential and was more appropriate for current conditions.

Meyer argued the 1881 flood must be used, or alternatives which would result in flood protection levels comparable to the 1881 level

The 1881 flood reportedly was caused by an overflow of the Wisconsin River at Portage where the Fox begins

Panel Told 'No Fault' May Bring Accidents

MADISON (AP)—The controversial "no fault" auto insurance plan would receive little support in Wisconsin because it encourages irresponsible driving, a state Senate committee was told Friday.

"You don't reduce rates, gentlemen, you reduce accidents," Gerald T. Hayes of the Defense Research Institute of Milwaukee told the Commerce, Labor, Taxation, Insurance and Banking Committee.

"If you remove fault from the highways, you are removing the deterrent to bad driving," he said.

Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek, who called the hearing to obtain evidence regarding auto insurance rates, said he felt the no fault plan would "penalize the good driver."

Lorge said he supported adopting car bumper vulnerability standards and an index of such vulnerability which would be reflected in insurance rates for various makes of cars.

Donald Schaffer, chief counsel for Allstate Insurance, Co. told the committee sedans moving slower than joggers running for exercise sustained damages averaging $541 per accident last year.

Charging the system of making reparations to injured parties will do little "unless something is done about the cost problem," he said.

But James Kilroy, Chrysler's manager of legislative relations, said new energy absorbing bumpers will add $80 to $100 to the cost of a car.

And Robert Mathews of General Motors said the cost of complying with a Florida law which takes effect in 1975 requiring bumpers to withstand 10 mile an hour collisions "never will be recovered during the life of the car."

2 UW Students From Oshkosh Killed in Crash

Head-On Collision Occurred on U.S. 151 North of Columbus

COLUMBUS — Two University of Wisconsin students on their way home to Oshkosh were killed Friday afternoon in a head-on crash on U. S. 151, about four miles north of here.

Dodge County authorities identified the victims as Peter L. Christensen, 23, 41 Lake St., driver of the car, and Robert B. Rieckman, 19, 1118 E. Nevada St.

Christensen, according to police, was northbound on 151 and was passing another vehicle when his car collided with a southbound auto driven by Michael Mc Conaghy, 24, Beaver Dam.

Mc Conaghy was taken to St. Joseph Hospital, Beaver Dam, for observation. Police said he apparently was not seriously injured. His passenger, Nancy Eisenga, 21, Cambria, Wis., was taken to the hospital for treatment of a broken leg.

Police said Christensen died of crushing chest injuries shortly after being admitted to the Beaver Dam hospital. Rieckman, who was dead at the accident scene, suffered a skull fracture.

Services Set

Christensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Christensen of Oshkosh, was a senior in the University of Wisconsin School of Engineering. Funeral services will be at 9 a.m. Tuesday in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Oshkosh. The Konrad Funeral Home of Oskosh is in charge of arrangements.

Rieckman, a sophomore honor student at the university, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Rieckman of Oshkosh.

Funeral services will be at 3 p.m. Sunday in St. Andrew Evangelical Lutheran Church. The Seefeld Funeral Home of Oshkosh is in charge of arrangements.

Steven Krantz, 17, Cross Plains, was killed Friday when the car he was in swerved to avoid another car at U. S. 151 and 18 in Mount Horeb. The car overturned and hit a tree.

The deaths of the three young people raised the states 1971 traffic toll to 61, compared with 76 on this date a year ago.

Brillion High School students Friday staged a sympathy sit-in over the reported dismissal of English teacher Frank Boyle. Boyle said he was asked by the school administration to resign at a meeting Thursday night because of his classroom teaching techniques.

Brillion High Students Hold Sit-in Over Rumored Teacher Dismissal

BRILLION — Brillion High School students staged a sympathy sit-in most of the day Friday over the rumored firing of a 25-year-old English teacher Thursday night.

Frank Boyle allegedly was fired because of his classroom teaching techniques. These involved "discussing openly and with honesty" items which are of interest and importance to students, the teacher said today Gaylord Unbehaun, superintendent of schools, has declined to comment.

"Most of the ideas expressed in my classes related to English," Boyle added. "We were relating to contemporary issues, important to young people."

Class Discussions

He noted that contemporary literature is being studied by his junior and senior students.

Principles of democracy and individual rights also were discussed, Boyle said

He was asked Thursday night at a meeting of the administration and the English department head to resign. He reportedly told them he would not.

The student-initiated sit-in Friday resulted. It originally involved all students, he said, but later it was reduced to about 150, most of them Boyle's students.

Boyle said he did not meet with classes Friday.

The school board is expected to meet today to discuss the issue.

Steiger Pushes Welfare Plan

SHEBOYGAN — "It is intolerable that the main domestic problem of the richest nation in the world is our continuing failure to devise an effective system for dealing with poverty," 6th District Rep. William A. Steiger, R-Oshkosh, told Republicans here Thursday.

"It is incredible that Congress should be incapable of action in the face of obvious needs for reform and improvements," he added.

Steiger told a GOP caucus that it's "our duty to see that President Nixon's New American Revolution gets a fair hearing." A main part of the revolution is a call for reform of the welfare system.

Optical Illusion

Steiger said a federal takeover of all welfare payments "would be doing little more than creating an optical illusion," and nationalizing the welfare system would "only shift the burden from the states to the federal government."

Basic reform — not "merely a cosmetic facelift" — is needed, he said.

Steiger said Nixon's new revolution program deserves attention for its proposals for radical reform of the federal government structure, including welfare.

Attack System

"What has captured 13 million people in the welfare system is the system itself the government structure erected to manage and control the welfare system," he said, noting that the poor, "by overwhelming proportions, do not want to go on welfare: once on, they want off the welfare rolls."

"We are not going to solve the problem by attacking the welfare poor; we must attack the welfare system," he said.

Nixon's Family Assistance plan didn't get through Congress in the last session. The President has put the proposal high on his priority list for action in this session.

"President Nixon saw the problem that welfare is creating," Steiger said. "He moved to overhaul the program — and overhaul it in behalf of all Americans, the working majority as well as the needy minority. Thus far, Congress has failed to follow the President's lead."

The plan would provide for a guaranteed annual payment of $1,600 for a family of four.

Steiger said Nixon's state of the union message "has caught the mood of the country, even if he has not yet caught the mood of Washington. To offset the opposition that he will face in Congress, the President is out time on 'cat' grout across the country."

Said he may accept reform proposals "would be welcome if they offered nothing more than the hope that government might be made a little more accessible, a little more responsive, and a little less intrusive."

Legislation May Ban Selling of Certain Pelts

MADISON (AP)—Legislation to ban the sale of 18 different pelts, including that of the badger and other endangered species, was introduced in the State Senate Friday by Fred Risser, D-Madison.

In addition to the badger, other pelts that would be protected were the alligator, beaver, crocodile, fisher, leopard, lynx, martin, muskrat, otter, polar bear, prairie wolf, sea lion, seal, timber wolf, walrus, whale, and the wild mink.

Persons convicted of selling such pelts could be fined up to $1,000 The proposed law would take effect Jan. 1, 1972.

Sen. Reuben La Fave, R-Oconto, introduced a resolution spelling out how federal revenue funds would be allocated within Wisconsin if Congress approved President Nixon's proposal for $16 billion in federal revenue sharing with the states.

In the Assembly, which also held a non-work session, a measure was introduced to authorize chiropractors to treat persons involved in workmen's compensation cases.

Second Youth, 14, Admits Part in Setting Home Fire

A second 14-year-old Appleton boy has admitted being party to setting a fire which Feb. 5 destroyed a vacant home on the northeast side.

His companion, 14, made the statement to juvenile detectives Tuesday night. The second 14-year-old, detectives said, has not yet been questioned, but gave the information to his parents Wednesday who immediately notified an attorney.

Police took part in the investigation when a 9-year-old neighbor girl reported seeing two high school age youths running from the home at 1322 N Kemlworth Ave., moments after the fire started.

State Fire Marshal Earl Schwabe of Green Bay joined the investigation with police and fire authorities.

Former Clintonville Man Completes Volunteer Work

CLINTONVILLE — Dr. James W. Bard, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Bard, 169 N. Main St., has returned to the United States following two months of volunteer work as a civilian doctor in Vietnam.

Dr. Bard is married and works at the Lexington Clinic in Lexington, Ky. He is a graduate of Marquette University and a 1958 graduate of the Marquette Medical School. Dr. Bard was the 1968 recipient of the Alumnus Honoris Award of Clintonville High School.

He is one of 800 doctors who have volunteered over a six-year period to work in Vietnam. The American Medical Association cosponsors the program, which is funded by an Agency for International Development (AID). The agency pays the doctor's fare to Vietnam plus $10 per day living expenses.

Bard, a dermatologist, spent the time treating civilians and teaching graduate students, assistant professors and interns the latest American medical knowledge at a medical school in Saigon. He had received extensive training at Carville, La., in combating leprosy, which is a problem in Vietnam.

Blur of Lights Caused Airliner Crash

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fatal airliner crash in December at Chicago's O'Hare Field was caused by the blur of runway lights or of the palne's own landing lights against a fog bank, the National Transportation Safety Board said Thursday.

The board said the only real clues to the crash of the North Central Airlines Convair 580 propjet in its approach for a landing were found in two comments on tape taken from the standard voice recorder in the cockpit.

Just before the plane started a sudden climb, 35 seconds before the crash, the captain remarked, "Sure wish you'd, he'd or they'd turn those off."

And a moment before the impact an extra crew member in the observer seat said, "The lights fouled it up."

"There is no way of positively determining whether the crew was referring to the runway approach lights or to the aircraft's landing lights, but it is reasonably certain that either or both initiated the chain of events that led to the accident," the NTSB said

The flight, originating at Minneapolis, had made a normal instrument approach in light rain and fog, and was down to an altitude of 210 feet, some 4,500 feet from the runway threshold, and climbed for about 11 seconds Instead of proceeding around for another landing attempt the craft lost speed, stalled and crashed

Of the 45 persons aboard, 27, including the pilot, copilot and an additional crew member in the observer's seat, were killed.

The plane struck a hangar, caught fire and burned.

The safety board said its investigation indicated that the captain, Marvin A Payne, 39, became disoriented by atmospheric refraction of lights on the airport, or the plane's landing lights, at a critical point in the approach.

Pupils Help Fight Cancer

Valentines Put to Special Use

WAUPACA — For the past 12 years, the fifth graders in Mrs. Lorena Tetzlaff's room at Riverside Elementary School have put a special meaning into Valentine's Day.

Instead of exchanging paper valentines with each other on Feb. 14, they put the money they would have spent into a special fund. This money is given to the American Cancer Society in memory of their little classmates and friends who were victims of cancer.

On Friday, the Rev. Edmund Webster presented the 28 children their Junior Crusaders cards, in exchange for their $33.57 which kicks off the Waupaca County American Cancer Society drive in April. Father Webster is president of the Waupaca Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Special guest on Friday was Mrs. John Bonnell, route 1, who is crusade Chairman for Waupaca County's 1971 drive She is presently recruiting volunteers and commended the fifth graders for their thoughtfulness and for being the first contributors

Universities Fear Results of Austerity

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MILWAUKEE — Gov. Patrick J. Lucey's call for austerity "is a matter of great concern," University of Wisconsin President John C. Weaver told the board of regents Friday.

The president said the belt-tightening ordered for all state agencies poses "difficult problems for the university because our employment practices are different from other agencies."

The university should be recruiting replacements and additions to the faculty and making promotions and salary increase commitments to the present staff now, he said, but a freeze on hiring and the late date at which the governor's budget recommendations will be made known prevent normal procedures.

Lucey expects to present his budget to the Legislature by March 2, a month later than usual. Reports are circulating in the capital that the governor plans to propose some major changes in the University of Wisconsin State University systems. The uncertainty itself has caused some problems in university planning in the next school year, Weaver and university assistant vice president Donald Percy indicated in their statements to the board.

Limit Hiring

Percy said that chancellors have been advised to limit hiring to fill vacancies up to 50 per cent of the number of open positions during the remainder of the biennium. Further, only 80 per cent of the vacancies and authorized positions for the fall of 1971 are to be contracted for, he said.

Before launching the discussion about austerity measures, the regents approved 343 new UW appointments. Of those, the regents were told, 123 involved state funds and 20 of those were made after the hiring freeze took effect. Those appointments, the regents were told, represented commitments made prior to the freeze.

The cutback, Percy said, involves primarily existing jobs and does not take into account expected growth on some of the campuses. Thus, he indicated, no provision has been made for hiring additional faculty to teach the 3,000 to 3,500 enrollment increase on all campuses for the fall.

No New Faculty

UW-Green Bay Campus Chancellor Edward Weidner said that the freeze means that the Green Bay campus will be required to teach the enrollment next fall, expected to be a lage increase over the present enrollment, with the present number of faculty members.

If new jobs are authorized and the budget approved by the legislature shortly before school opens, Weaver said, "it won't do us any good." He indicated it would be impossible to hire additional faculty at the last minute, despite an apparent nationwide surplus of degree holding persons available to teach.

The president futher charged that the austerity measure will hurt efforts and plans of the university to improve undergraduate education.

5 Marion Men Take 83-Mile Snowmobile Trip

MARION — Five young men from Marion may have a snowmobile first when they traveled from Marion to Pelican Lake, a distance of 83 miles, in 6 below zero weather Feb. 6.

Bob Sprenger, Butch Arndt George Mierhoefer, Mike Tischauser and Jerry Jaeger all members of the Winter Wanderers Snowmobile Club here, set out from Marion at 7:30 a.m., each on his own snowmobile.

They didn't have any trouble with their machines and stopped only to gas up. They broke trail, with new snow measuring from 10 to 14 inches, before arriving at Elcho at 12:30 p.m. They continued on four four miles to Pelican Lake. The trip up there took them a bit over five hours.

The five of them stayed at the Sprenger cottage and returned to Marion Sunday afternoon. Two machines developed minor trouble on the return trip and outside of three minor frostbite cases, the young men stated that they had no regrets and that it had been a thrilling experience.

HEW Report on Discrimination To be Released

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MILWAUKEE — A report from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare on discrimination against women on the University of Wisconsin campuses is expected in the next two of three weeks, according to Robert Gentry, a university assistant vice president.

Gentry expects the report on a five-day visit by HEW officials to the UW Madison campus last month "will ask us to do things we are already doing." He said he was optimistic the university will not reschedule funds because of alleged discrimination. "I am optimistic we can negotiate," he told the UW Board of Regents meeting here Friday.

The assistant vice president, who is in charge of human rights on the UW campuses, said he believed the HEW officials were encouraged by their visit, especially since charges of discrimination were brought to them, precluding the necessity of their seeking discrimination out.

The UW is under surveillance by HEW as a result of charges of discrimination against women brought last fall by a national group. The Women's Equity Action League brought charges against about 100 universities in the country, Gentry said.

Up to that time, he said, "we had no inkling of a problem." He said that the UW had filed an affirmative action program to work against discrimination and it had been accepted by HEW.

The federal department will show that women are underutilized, underpaid, and in too small numbers in teaching and staff jobs, Gentry predicted.

He said that the university has been asking women to come forward and to express their complaints. "Not once has a committee received a complaint," he said, although he said, 15 to 20 complaints were filed with the HEW officials, eight of them signed and written.

Gentry said he has talked with representatives of women on the Madison campus and in the University of Wisconsin Extension and "they were very appreciative they had someone to sit down and talk to," he said.

The women's rights group on the Green Bay campus has not yet filed any complaints, although several members of the faculty and staff plan to do so, according to reports. At present the group is attempting to compile records to substantiate complaints.

UW President John Weaver reiterated a plank for dealing with all personnel grievances, outlined earlier in the week. He expressed his concern repeatedly that there is no complete procedure for handling all staff complaints in the UW system, and recommended the campus chancellors form channels for hearing charges and negotiating complaints.

"There are things we can do to improve our employe practice's," Weaver said. He said that attempts to settle complaints and make proper amends to those who have suffered discrimination be done during the annual staff review this spring within the innards of the university.

Weaver Backs Penalties for 3 of Faculty

UW Head Endorses Council Findings In Antiwar Incident

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Penalties recommended against three University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee faculty members accused of disrupting school activity during antiwar demonstrations last spring were endorsed Friday by UW President John C. Weaver.

Weaver said the University Faculty Council had "dealt fairly with both procedural and substantive objections raised before and during the hearings" against Arnold Kaufman, Morgan Gibson and his wife Barbara.

Kaufman, an associate professor of psychology, would be stripped of tenure for three years. Gibson, an associate professor of English, would lose tenure for two years. And Mrs. Gibson, an English lecturer, would be suspended until the spring semester of 1972.

The school president told the Board of Regents he would welcome the council's advice on reinstatement of Gibson and Kaufman to tenure after their probationary period is up. But he noted the final decision must be approved by the regents.

'Professional Integrity'

"The strength and sustenance of freedom in the academic community depends upon a faculty committed to the advancement of truth and to the upholding of professional integrity," Weaver said.

Commenting further on protests, Weaver called this week's demonstrations in Madison "unfortunate," and said they did nothing to help the peace movement.

The disruption of a faculty meeting by protestors was "the kind of attack on freedom within the institution that can destroy the university," he said.

The regents combined their meeting Friday with a visit to the new $7.5 million Science Complex building at UWM.

The regents attended a luncheon and then toured the structure which houses the College of Applied Science and Engineering, the mathematics department of the College of Letters and Science, a science library and the UWM computer center

Waupaca Man Placed On Year's Probation For Disorderly Conduct

WAUPACA — Douglas Hadley, 35, 520 Royalton St., pleaded guilty Friday in County Court Branch 2 to a charge of disorderly conduct.

Judge Nathan Wiese sentenced him to the Waupaca County jail for 60 days and stayed the sentence. Hadley was placed on a year probation to the Wisconsin Department of Social Services, with conditions for probation that he pay the $12.70 court cost and seek psychiatric help during the probation period.

Hadley was arrested by Chief Fred Rasmussen Thursday night and taken into custody, after Hadley went to the Rasmussen residence and threatened his own family and himself. According to the criminal complaint signed by Rasmussen, Hadley told him he would not be responsible for anything that happened

Causes of Retardation Sometimes Not Known

BY G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr Thosteson: How is it determined what has caused a child to be retarded?

Is there a difference between a "Mongoloid" child and one who is "retarded"? Can it be determined whether the genes of the parents caused a retarded child, or if it was caused by the mother being exposed to German measles? Are all retarded babies termed Mongoloid? — M B.

Not all retarded children are Mongoloid by any means Mongolism is just one form of retardation, and it is accompanied by physical characteristics that are easily recognized.

In the case of a Mongoloid child, it is now possible to make quite sophisticated laboratory tests and show that the child has an extra (and defective chromosome) — has 47 instead of 46. (A chromosome is an assemblage of many genes )

This does not mean that there was anything wrong with parents' genes and chromosomes, or at any rate anything yet identified. Many people have perfectly normal children, then a Mongoloid is born. There is somewhat greater chance of this happening when the mother is getting along toward the end of her child-bearing years But exactly why it happens is not known.

For your original question, I can only say that many times it is entirely impossible to determine what caused retardation. Most of what is known about this has come from "working backward" — studying large numbers of retarded youngsters, searching for common characteristics, and then hunting for factors in the history or heredity of children with similar forms of retardation.

Some cases have been pinned down to a certain metabolic fault, and when this is discovered in earliest infancy (as can now be done with a widely used test) the retardation may be prevented by proper diet

In other cases, nothing can be done The children are born that way, and that's that And in some cases the child may be normal at birth, but disease or injury damages the brain later on and the youngster's thinking capabilities are diminished.

As to German measles, this causes a great many "birth defects," if the mother has not had the disease but is exposed to it in the early part of her pregnancy, especially the first three months Some of these babies are retarded Some are not, but have physical defects of heart, eyes, ears, or other organs

Dear Dr Thosteson Can you suggest a remedy for dandruff? Apart from the dandruff, my head is always itching. — C L

For mild dandruff, the common dandruff shampoos quite often are satisfactory.

But when they do not help, or when dandruff is severe, look for some more important cause. Remember that severe dandruff can result from scalp disease, of which seborrheic dermatitis is the commonest Psoriasis of the scalp is another

Especially with your itching, suspect some scalp disease See a skin specialist and let him make the diagnosis and prescribe proper treatment.

Dear Dr Thosteson I was told not to add salt to any of my food so I stay away from chips and such things. I like vinegar very much, and anything that is pickled, but the way I understand it, anything pickled would be high in salt.

But would vinegar be? — Mrs H L P

You're right — most pickled items are high in salt, so stay away from them. Plain vinegar does not contain salt, so you can use it to add a tart flavor to things. As a salad dressing you can use it plain or mixed with oil.

Commission Report Rejects Non-Therapeutic Abortion

ST LOUIS — A report here issued by the Commission on Theology and Church Relations of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod asserts that "non-therapeutic abortion is wrong."

The document is divided into three parts, studying the theological, legal and medical aspects of abortion. "All three sections," according to the introduction, "are agreed on the point that non-therapeutic abortion is wrong."

The study admits that like most problems of life, abortion is a rather complex issue. A correct decision on this matter can be made only "on the basis of valid and enduring principles."

It suggests four principles which are especially pertinent to the abortion issue: "life is a gift from God; human beings are created for eternal life; human life is created for fulfillment; and life and death belong to the province of God."

The report recognizes "the hastening drift toward drastic relaxation of legal restraints upon the practice of abortion," but emphasizes that "change in the laws will not alter the Christian's conduct with respect to non-therapeutic abortion."

In reference to the medical aspects of the problem, it stresses that "the Christian physician is guided by the Biblical revelation of the nature and effects of sin, while the non-Christian physician is not."

"The Christian physician can," the document adds, "in some circumstances recommend abortion under proper medical supervision."

The report concludes that although "Holy Scripture does not present us with a detailed set of regulations for abortion and many other complex ethical problems, it does, however, offer principles of enduring validity and authority."

LaCrosse Diocese Condemns Anew Necedah Shrine

LA CROSSE (AP)—A special investigation commission of the La Crosse Roman Catholic Diocese has "condemned anew" a shrine at Necedah where apparitions of the Blessed Virgin Mary were reported in 1950.

In a report to Bishop F. W. Freking, the commission expressed agreement with the original probe by the diocese which concluded that the alleged revelations and visions of Mrs. Mary Ann Van Hoff had no supernatural origin.

Mrs Van Hoof's "visions" attracted nationwide attention in the early 1950s.

Freking said the commission investigated the "Queen of the Holy Rosary, Mediatrix of Peace Shrine," which has been promoted at Necedah.

On June 7, 1955, the late Bishop John P. Treacy issued a decree condemning the shrine and the "cult of Mary."

The current commission, composed of three priests and two lay persons, said the Necedah group should be advised that it can never operate under Catholic auspices.

Press Coverage of Preliminary Hearings

A judge in a Manitowoc County court, conducting a preliminary hearing in a murder case, recently issued an order prohibiting the press from publishing any information about the hearing on the grounds that it might prejudice the defendant's right to a fair trial.

Subsequently the judge dismissed the charges against the defendant, ruling that the district attorney had not produced evidence sufficient to bind the defendant over for trial.

The result was that the public, not being informed as to the evidence the district attorney presented, had no means of judging the performance of the judge or the district attorney in carrying out their responsibilities.

The Post-Crescent felt at the time that the Manitowoc newspaper should have challenged the judge's right to issue an order barring the press from publishing anything about the hearing.

The coverage of a preliminary hearing by the press is a gray area in the matter of free press versus fair trial, or the rights of the public to information versus the right of the defendant to trial by an impartial jury. At a preliminary hearing only the prosecution introduces evidence and it is not subject to cross-examination. For this reason the press has a responsibility to avoid publishing testimony that might be inflammatory or prejudicial.

But now we have a contrasting situation here in Outagamie County.

At the conclusion of a preliminary hearing, Judge Gustave Keller volunteered a statement about the case before him, saying in part, that "to listen to the testimony in this hearing and in others that we've been conducting is alarming and frightening, and the extent of the operation as brought out here is beyond the imagination of the citizens in this and any other community. There was no question that these crimes were committed. (The defendants) were the hub, the basis of operation for these activities. For them to say they did not have knowledge of these activities is preposterous . . . I don't see how they can escape criminal liability."

The decision facing a judge at a preliminary hearing is whether the evidence is sufficient to indicate that a crime probably was committed and that the defendants should face trial for the crime.

Judge Keller went well beyond that decision in volunteering his opinion in this case.

The Post-Crescent is quite clear about its responsibilities to inform the public in cases like this. But now it is confused about whose responsibility it is to insure the defendants a fair trial.

College Athletics in Trouble

As most of the university and college authorities all over the country are looking at ways both to curb expenses and to raise more funds, the matter of intercollegiate athletics has finally been mentioned out loud. It's been talked about quietly for some time.

Obviously doing away with such athletics, especially in the fields of football and basketball, will cause problems with alumni who like to go back for that homecoming game, and for newspaper sports departments. There were howls from University of Wisconsin alumni when the state colleges became full-fledged four year liberal arts institutions — and had athletic teams — for fear they might draw possible athletes away from Alma Mater. Marquette more than ten years ago managed to weather the protests when it pulled out of intercollegiate football but it wasn't easy. Now a number of institutions — as well as some high schools — are taking a second look at their athletic programs.

Delegates to the annual meeting in Houston of the National Collegiate Athletic Association conceded there was a growing problem and these men would be expected to be in favor of continuing intercollegiate sports if at all possible. But the representative from Northwestern University said that "I don't see how the situation will get any better on its own. Costs are likely to continue rising more than revenues. I don't see cures coming without some response by ..... college athletes." The athletic director at Seton Hall University in New Jersey commented that "we're either going to have to restrain ourselves in what we spend or increase our incomes. The former appears to be more realistic. We may have to limit scholarships, recruiting, travel — how far and where we travel — and public relations." New equipment may also have to be done without.

From the East, Ivy League delegates explained that they had it tough because they were committed to offering sports that had little return, such as rowing, sailing and fencing. But delegates from farther west said their expenses were particularly high because of the distances their major teams had to travel.

Another sign of the concern was the vote at the NCAA meeting which put down by only six votes a proposal to allow freshmen to play on varsity teams. It was clear that the proposal was introduced because of the fear that a lot of colleges and universities might have to start their cuts with the eradication of programs specifically for freshmen. Junior varsities may also disappear. Some local high schools have decided to postpone the development of wrestling teams, for instance, and have dropped assistant coaches in many sports in order to cut the budgets down to council approved size.

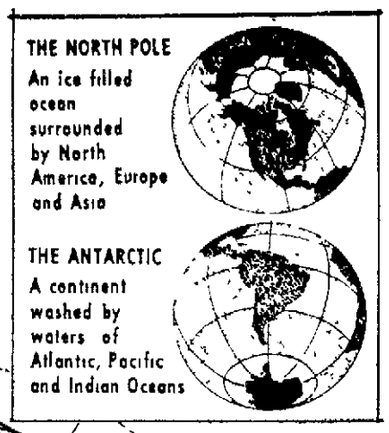

Some educators also think that the campus interest in intercollegiate sports has diminished as concerns about the war, politics, social work and the environment have caught on. How many Notre Dame students fifteen years ago would have missed a football game if they had tickets? This year 700 students gave their tickets to the Georgia Tech game away to underprivileged children. The University of Montana's athletic director complained that "in past days, we didn't have other campus activities to compete with for student funds. Now, they're using their money for speakers' bureaus and the like." Films, concerts and social programs also take money away from the purely athletically oriented programs.

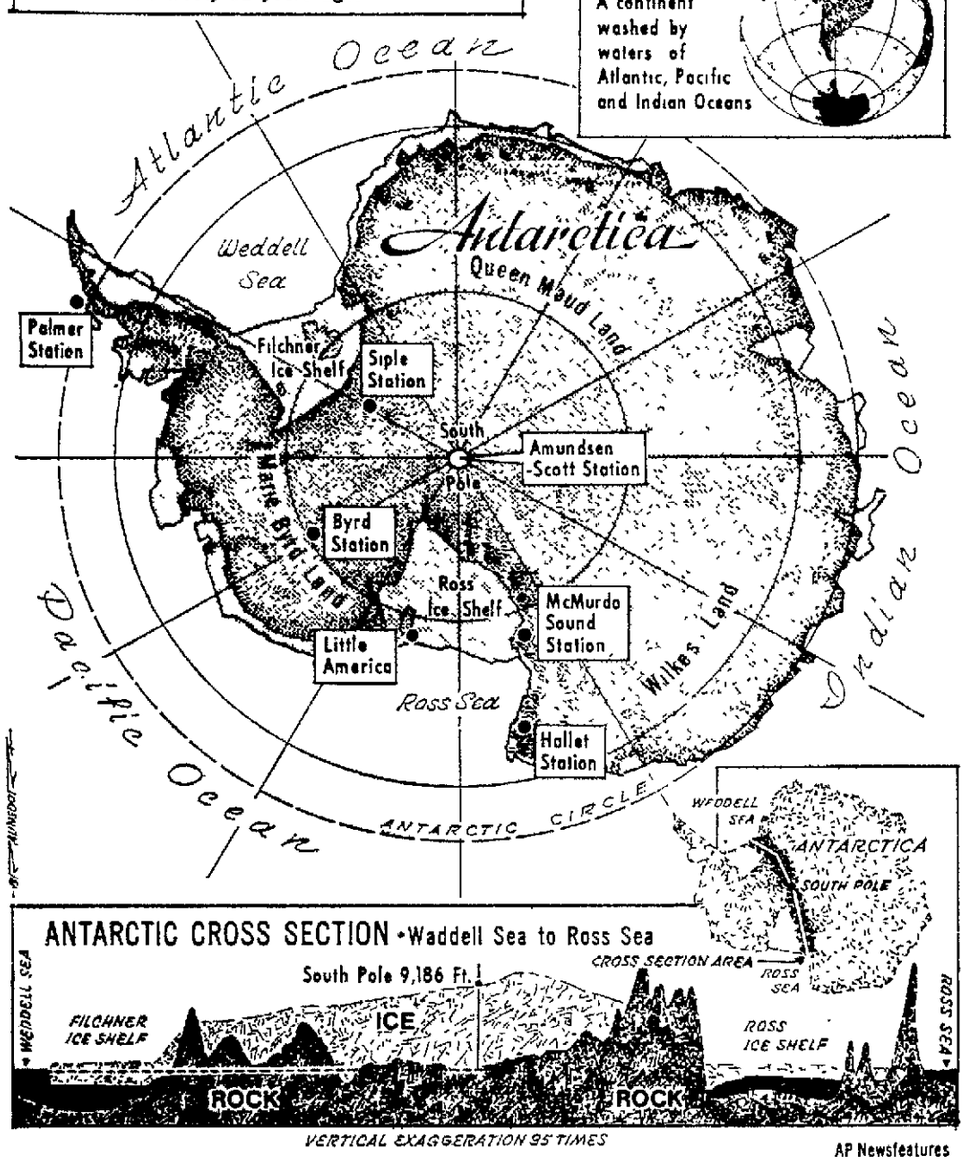

It seems likely that some faculty members, reduced in salary or at least cut in expected raises, are going to start looking hard at the athletic budget and wondering out loud whether the program is essential to the educational process or of real value to the institution. Regents and trustees are going to be in a bind. Many legislatures, from whence comes the primary income of public institutions, still believe that the sun rises and sets with the athletic record of the state university. Some alumni, who may be big or potential donors to both public and private institutions, may feel the same way. How and where to cut costs without losing revenues of any kind is the acute problem facing most institutions of higher learning.

It was fairly evident at the NCAA meeting that the colleges and institutions, that did not offer athletic scholarships or extensive aids just for athletic prowess were the ones least likely to be hurt by any changes. Apparently we have outlasted or perhaps outgrown the days when the Big Man On Campus was the Football Hero. Perhaps university athletics were oversold and overpromoted and the letdown is something to be expected. In a way it is too bad since sports, both participation and spectator types, are fun, give a release from tension and provide to some extent at least a relaxation that seems all too absent from our campuses today.

THE ICE MASSES OF ANTARCTICA

America plans to build a new geological station in the South Pole before the present one collapses under the crushing weight of 60 feet of ice. The base flies the flags of 16 nations which signed the Antarctic treaty 12 years ago.

Background Map

Antarctic Is a Continent; Ice Is Three Miles Deep

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The United States plans to build a new South Pole geological station before the present one collapses under the weight of 60 feet of ice.

The base, known as the Amundsen-Scott South Pole Station in memory of polar explorers Roald Amundsen of Norway and Robert Scott of Britain, flies the flags of 16 nations which signed the Antarctic Treaty in 1959.

The treaty deals with an imaginary circle at the 60th parallel south and its provisions apply only to regions below that parallel.

Actually the South Pole is situated atop an ice cap three miles thick. This cap is sliding slowly over the earth much after the fashion of glaciers. As a result, the South Pole Station has drifted several thousand feet toward the Ross Ice Shelf.

Beside the South Pole station, there are five other bases including McMurdo, Byrd, Palmer, Siple and Hallett.

Will Slide Eventually

The new South Pole station will probably be built where the present one is supposed to be, but it too will eventually slide toward the sea.

Antarctica, an area more vast than the United States and Mexico combined, stretches over 5.5 million square miles of terrain, 95 per cent of which is covered with a mantle of snow and ice that extends three miles deep in spots.

Should these seven million cubic miles of ice melt for any reason, geologists say that it would result in worldwide disaster. For one thing, the oceans of the globe would rise 200 to 250 feet, placing most of the world's coastal cities under water.

There is distinct difference between the two poles, geologist note. The north polar region is an ice-filled ocean surrounded by parts of the continents of North America, Europe and Asia.

Antarctic Is Continent

The Antarctic, on the other hand, is a continent washed by the waters of the Atlantic, Pacific and Indian oceans.

At the North Pole, a few feet of ice drift over 10,000 feet of water. The Antarctic, an ice-covered plateau, 9,000 feet above sea level, harbors whales, seals and seabirds, but no four-footed animals. The Arctic has not only seals, whales and seabirds, but polar bear, arctic foxes and caribou.

It is estimated that one million persons dwell above the Arctic circle, but Antarctica is colder and separated from inhabited areas by long, perilous stretches of ocean.

Higher than Mt. Rushmore in South Dakota, Antarctica is without doubt the most bleak, forbidding place on earth today. Only in the last half century has man even attempted to brave these elements.

Taxing the Rich Not Sufficient to Solve State's Budget Gap

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — When the state government later in the year inevitably raises taxes, emphasis will be on incomes.

If the Democratic administration has its way — according to recent declarations — the effort will be directed exclusively toward revising upward the taxation on incomes. To many of the more doctrinaire liberals that will mean "taxing the rich."

Democrats have already given abundant clues to their intentions, and their campaign postures in general may be regarded as commitments. The governor has said that he sees nothing sacred about the present maximum rates, for individuals or for corporations, which has had the effect if not the design of giving new emphasis to taxation upon the well-to-do. All of which relates to the pragmatic requirements of the politician.

But it should not mislead the great mass of the taxpayers, nevertheless. The unfortunate fact is that there are not a sufficient number of the affluent in Wisconsin — in a time of enormous expansion of public service pressures — to finance the gaping deficits that loom. The round of new tax levies will to some degree affect all those who have taxable incomes — which will include some who are far less than affluent.

All Will Pay

To some degree the liberals in power will be the victims of their success as campaign aggressors, when the time comes to take up the painful business of expanding the state treasury's revenues. Phrases such as "ability to pay," "taxing the rich" and the other familiars of the press releases have impeded understanding of the reality of the state's revenue structure and the fact that there are not enough truly rich taxpayers to carry the load of pervasive modern government.

A decade ago, the state with some reluctance adopted payroll withholding to yield up income tax dollars, when another Democratic administration accepted the unpleasant truth that revenue needs were so great that all taxable incomes required higher levies. The alternatives would have been unmanageable increases in delinquencies or costly enforcement machinery expansion. Politicians reasoned that payroll withholding would be painless. The more sophisticated were aware that many middle-income taxpayers, represented in unions, could bargain for wage adjustments to make up for reduction in "take home" pay. Events vindicated the calculation.

Reality of Sources

Here are some statistical realities to paste in the hat in anticipation of the statehouse income tax debates:

Persons with taxable incomes of $12,000 and more made up only four per cent of the total income taxpaying population last year. They had 20 per cent of the income, but paid 34 per cent of the state income tax.

Persons earning less than $6,000 made up nearly 70 per cent of those filing state tax returns, had one-third of total personal income, and paid only 20 per cent of taxes collected by the state. The most important tax sources, those earnings between $6,000 and $12,000, accounted for 47 per cent of taxable income, 27 per cent of all returns, and 46 per cent of the taxes.

They are the great providers. They must be, in numbers, and earnings. They will be prudent to watch statehouse news with special care this winter — whatever happens to their brethren above and below their income scale.

Minister's Welcome To State Is Whammy

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

We moved to Black Creek during the last week of December in 1968. My wife had been teaching school and I had served a church in Evergreen Park, Ill. The school board and the church both sent our final salary checks for services we rendered in Illinois before moving to Wisconsin early in 1969.

On our Federal Income Tax reports and on our State of Wisconsin tax reports we indicated the full amount of those salary payments. The appropriate federal tax was paid early in 1970.

On November 12, 1970, one Karl R. Foss of the Madison Office of the State of Wisconsin Department of Revenue wrote and asked us the precise time of our removal to Wisconsin A day later I sent him that information along with an inquiry as to why this information was being requested A subsequent letter informed us that we were to be taxed by Wisconsin for the salary we had earned in Illinois before we moved here. In another paragraph I was instructed to have the Church Council submit a statement informing said Foss whether or not the church here furnishes a parsonage and utilities.

I checked with denominational authorities, other ministers and priests in the area and not a single person had ever known of a church or minister being asked to submit such information. Was our official welcome to Wisconsin to be in the form of harassment or discriminatory taxation to which others in the same profession had never been subjected?

Next I contacted the Appleton office of the taxing department of Wisconsin. W. J. Tideman and subsequently a Mr. A. E. Nowak spoke to me over the phone and in a personal interview at their office in the Appleton Court House Annex about the problem. They were courteous.

Today we are mailing our check in the amount of $62.07 to cover the additional tax poor, poor, poor Wisconsin feels it has a right to exact from us on income we earned (though we were not paid for it until a few weeks afterwards, but by which time we lived in Wisconsin for less than a week) in Illinois. On our check we typed this note: PAYMENT IN FULL, UNDER STRONG PROTEST. We expect that note to be completely disregarded.

Wisconsin laws may make us liable for this payment. The Appleton men insist that this is so. Then such laws should be repealed!

Foss was obviously in error, regardless of how many photostatic copies of court cases involving tax payments of taxes by ministers tried to take into account parsonage rental values, but he has never rescinded his request. Are these employees free to harass taxpayers at their will?

Welcome to Wisconsin — W H A M !

Respectfully yours,
Carl Edward Berges,
Pastor

Deplores Space Book In School Library

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

Pornography in the book stores??? Well, look what our 13-year-old brought home from the school library!! If made into a movie, it would certainly be an "R" or "X" rated film.

Good space story, but — four men and two women on a space ship for six months and WOW!! Throughout the book and thoroughly spelled out, the chapters are filled with the sort of reading unfit for junior high school level. I wonder if this book was an oversight on the part of the persons who preview school library reading material, or are we to suppose the public school standards have dropped so low. On behalf of the young people of Appleton, I certainly hope the former is the case.

By the way, if you doubt my accusations, take a good look at Martin Caidin's novel "Four Came Back."

Chances Seen for Reunion of Unions

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Informed sources indicated today the AFL-CIO will take back into its organization next week the International Chemical Workers Union that was kicked out 17 months ago after it joined the Teamsters and United Auto Workers in the Alliance for Labor Action.

Some sources say this may presage return in the near future of the Teamsters and UAW to give the AFL-CIO 17.5 million members, the greatest labor strength in U.S. history.

The 2-million-member Teamsters, kicked out of the AFL-CIO 14 years ago on corruption charges, joined the alliance with the 1.6 million-member United Auto Workers three years ago. The late Walter Reuther had taken his UAW out of the federation during a bitter leadership quarrel with AFL-CIO President George Meany.

100,000 Members

The smaller Chemical Workers, with some 100,000 members, was the only other international union to leave the AFL-CIO to join the alliance.

Paul Hall, AFL-CIO vice president and head of the Seafarers, Union, led the attack in throwing out the chemical workers at the AFL-CIO convention in Atlantic City, N.J., in October 1969, charging it was selling out for "30 pieces of silver" — the hope that the alliance would provide more money for organizing.

Hall reportedly was ready to welcome the chemical workers back if Meany says the word.

Main Body

The chemical workers initiated their return to the main body of the U.S. labor movement after rumors that the Teamsters might return if their imprisoned president, James R. Hoffa, is dethroned at that union's convention here next July.

Teamster leaders are soft-pedaling talk of rejoining the AFL-CIO, but that was expected until its leadership situation is cleared up. Acting Teamsters President Frank Fitzsimmons is expected to succeed to the presidency in July if Hoffa is in prison or otherwise unavailable for re-election.

The situation of the UAW is less clear, since the death of Reuther in a plane crash last May and his replacement by Leonard Woodcock. Some sources believe many auto workers would consider it an insult to Reuther to return to the AFL-CIO hastily.

Others believe Woodcock, after wrapping up his first major contract bargaining with the auto industry, would like to lead his union back into the AFL-CIO

The 76-year-old Meany, while discounting any immediate chances of either the Teamsters or Auto Workers returning, has said one of his goals is to eventually see both unions back in the AFL-CIO.

Moon Rocks Scrutinized

Alan B Shepard Jr and Stuart A. Roosa, are confined to the lab until Feb. 26 on the remote chance they brought germs back to earth. Few scientists believe there are germs on the moon.

The astronauts are spending the first few days in quarantine discussing technical and engineering details of the nine-day mission with experts. Discussion is conducted through a glass panel equipped with a communications system.

In another section of the laboratory, scientists opened the first box of moon rocks collected by Shepard and Mitchell in the Fra Maur highlands a week ago.

The container opened Friday had about nine pounds of the 95 pounds of material brought to earth by the astronauts. But in it was a three-inch-long chip off a large white rock which the moonwalkers described while on the surface.

Geologists have speculated it might be part of the primitive lunar crust that they theorize underlies the area.

"Nobody knows what the rock is and obviously there is going to have to be a lot of work," said Dr Robin Brett, chief of the geochemistry branch at the Manned Spacecraft Center.

Firms Stop Using Enzyme In Detergents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stain-eating enzymes, which at one time held 75 per cent of the $1.2 billion laundry products market, are quietly being removed from some brands because of dipping sales

Lever Brothers has stopped using enzymes in its only enzyme product, Drive. Procter & Gamble has dropped enzymes from two of its detergents and Colgate Palmolive says it has been and will continue reducing the number of its enzyme products.

"Recent publicity has apparently contributed to diminished consumer interest in the new enzyme detergent products that were introduced two years ago," said a Lever Brothers spokesman.

Scientists in the United States and England discovered that workers in the enzyme industry developed respiratory illness

Government agencies and the detergent industry have received consumer complaints that enzymes caused skin rashes. But the industry says it has never been able to confirm a consumer allergic reaction due to enzymes.

For the last year the Federal Trade Commission has been investigating enzyme safety. The American Academy of Allergy recently declared detergent enzymes a "potential danger to public health."

Consumer advocate Ralph Nader has asked the FTC to ban enzymes in detergents.

Enzymes are chemicals which break down certain stains in clothing so the regular washing process can remove them.

stocked with canvas boots and gloves, three tons of canned pork, 35,000 gallons of gasoline and other items. They killed 28 North Vietnamese guards while fighting their way into the complex 12 miles southwest of Lang Vei. It was described as a quartermaster depot.

20 Trucks

In an area nine miles southwest of Lang Vei, they seized 20 Soviet-made trucks, and 10 miles northwest of the city they found three caches and the bodies of 20 guards killed by U.S. air strikes. These yielded between 70 and 100 tons of rice, more than 500 rifles, 600 uniforms and 60 antiaircraft machine guns like those that have knocked down more than 20 American helicopters this week. Some weapons were destroyed by the U.S. air raids.

In other developments:

—North Vietnam charged that U.S. warships fired on its fishing boats just north of the 17th parallel on the night of Feb. 10 and the morning of Feb. 11, killing or wounding a number of people. The U.S. Command said it has a policy of not commenting on charges by Radio Hanoi.

'Grave Menace'

—Communist China said the South Vietnamese operation in Laos with U.S. air support is "a grave menace" to China. A New China News Agency broadcast warned in strong terms that China, Laos' northern neighbor, will not remain indifferent to the Laotian situation.

—In Washington, a State Department spokesman said he had no indication that Communist China is thinking of involvement in Laos and reiterated that Peking has nothing to fear from the United States' involvement in the South Vietnamese operation. Asked if the U.S. government shares Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma's reported concern about a possible Chinese volunteer invasion of Laos, press officer Robert J. McCloskey replied: "Well, we have no information of our own confirming the reported concern of Souvanna Phouma."

THE ACES ON BRIDGE

World Champions

by IRA G. CORN JR. TEAM CAPTAIN

Each year, at the Fall National Tournament, the American Contract Bridge League conducts its premier pair contest, The Blue Ribbon Pairs. The contest is limited to players who have performed well in selected tournaments during the prior year.

In 1970, the tournament was held in Houston, and the winners were a newly formed partnership, Ira Rubin of Paramus, N.J., and Charles Hayden, of Detroit.

Dorothy Hayden, Hastings-on-Hudson, N.Y., and Emma Jean Hawes, Fort Worth, Tex. finished in fourth place, only 11½ points behind the winners. Mrs. Hayden lost her chance to be the first repeat winner of this event by an unfortunate choice of leads against a slam contract on today's deal. Mrs. Hayden was West.

Opening lead: Ace of hearts.

The North-South bidding was based on an artificial club system to show a strong hand. The club bid was artificial, both diamond bids showed suit length and the remaining bids were cue bids.

Mrs. Hayden decided to lead the heart ace and the defense was finished. Declarer was able to discard two clubs on dummy's high spades. His two losing hearts were ruffed in dummy.

If Mrs. Hayden had selected any other suit to lead, the slam would have been defeated. Against a spade lead, with dummy's jack holding the trick, declarer can discard three losers.

Three discards are not enough, since the loss of two more tricks cannot be avoided. If declarer discards three hearts, he must still lose a club and a heart. If declarer discards two clubs and a heart, he must eventually lose two hearts.

Against a club lead, declarer can avoid a club loser by allowing the lead to ride to the queen. However, the high spades can provide discards for only two of his hearts and he would then lose two heart tricks and the slam.

It'll be some time before Mrs. Hayden forgets this deal. After six gruelling sessions of play, it is difficult to forget how "a flip of a coin" opening lead made the difference between winning and losing the year's major pair contest.

BRIDGEWATER, Mass. (AP) — Former astronaut John Glenn, a combat fighter pilot in World War II and Korea, says the use of U.S. air power over Laos runs the risk of widening the war.

Answering questions after a speech at Bridgewater State College Tuesday, Glenn, who sought the Democratic Senate nomination in Ohio last year, said if American aircraft are shot down, U.S. ground troops will have to be sent in to retrieve the pilots and crew members.

As for ending the Vietnam war with a victory, he said "to militarily solve the war we would have to occupy the entire country and this would take 2½ million men."

History As We Lived It

1970 is now history . . . another chapter in world events in which we all participated directly or indirectly. Once again, as it has since 1965, the Associated Press has compiled text and pictures of the principal events that shaped the course of the world in 1970 and offers the whole year's review in a handsomely-bound edition, "The World in 1970." Every major event is there — from the Middle East crisis and Vietnam, to pollution and women's liberation — in dramatic detail supplemented with graphic photographs. ## Choice Rock Specimens Become Unusual Display

BY CAPPY DICK

A vertical display of a few choice rock specimens is today's fun-project for boys and girls. The display is easy to make. Completed, it is shown in figure 2. The rocks are suspended by fine fishline or other strong cord. Beneath each specimen is glued a piece of paper stating the name or type of stone and where you found it.

The first step to take in constructing such a display for four or five of your most interesting rocks is to obtain a strong cardboard or corrugated board box and trim it as shown by the dotted lines in figure 1. Good dimensions for the box would be a length of nine or 10 inches, a height of seven or eight inches and a depth of three and a half or four inches.

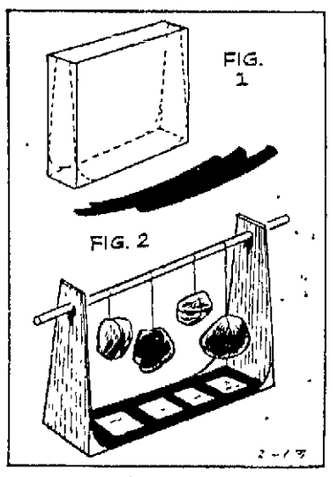

Select a dowel or any similar stick of suitable length and fit it into holes to be cut into the upright ends of the cardboard as shown in figure 2. Be sure the dowel is level.

Tie a piece of fine fishline or other strong cord around each rock and also around the dowel.

Print the names of the rocks and other interesting data on slips of paper and glue them to the bottom of the display stand, putting each slip beneath the proper rock.

Set the display on your desk where visitors can see it.

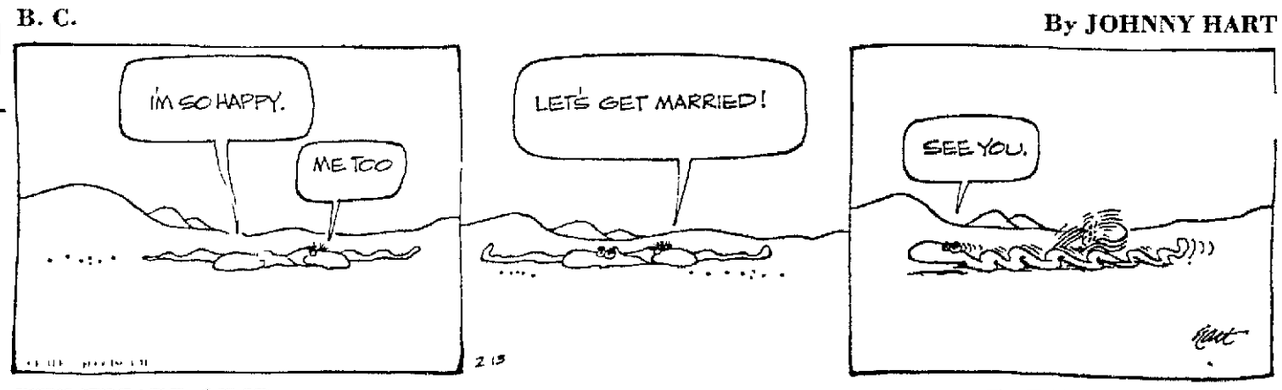

Monday: Lots more good fun for every boy and girl!

Desert Stars In Geographic TV Special

BY TV SCOUT

7-8 Channels 2-7 — Be sure to watch "The Great Mojave Desert," a gem of a show and a National Geographic Society Special. You might think a program about the desert would be an endless series of beautiful vistas. Well, the magnificent scenery is present, but you'll be amazed at the variety in the content: from a ballet performance by a woman who runs the Armagosa Opera House and teaches ballet in a town of 32 people to a moving sequence on miners, still doing their dangerous job and dreaming of riches. There also are studies of mustangers, Basque shepherds at work (with two dogs guarding 2,000 sheep), land yachting, glider pilots, a castle, a walk across the desert by Colin Fletcher and a fine shot of a mirage.

4-5:30 Channels 11-9 — Wide World of Sports comes from three sites: Tampa, Fla., for the Tournament of Thrills Auto Daredevil Championship; University Park, Pa. for the U.S.A.-U.S.S.R. Gymnastic Championship and Alta, Utah for the National Acrobatic Ski Jumping Championship.

5-6 Channel 5 — Now it's Bob Hope's turn for his annual golf tournament. The Bob Hope Desert Classic is played on four courses in Palm Desert, Calif., with the proceeds going to charity and $140,000 going to the winning golfers.

6:30-7 Channels 2-7 — He's Your Dog, Charlie Brown, comes around for the third season with the now familiar story of the Peanuts characters, who get Charlie to send Snoopy back to the Daisy Hill Puppy Farm for a refresher course in obedience.

7:30-8:30 Channel 11 — Pearlie Mae describes tonight's edition of The Pearl Bailey Show as a teary one, and indeed it was an emotional affair with the legendary, 71-year-old Ethel Waters getting a standing ovation from the audience after singing "His Eye Is on the Sparrow." She also sings "Cabin in the Sky" and has her career summarized by Pearl and in a finale with the other guests, Robert Goulet and Hines, Hines and Dad, an exciting trio.

9-10 Channels 2-7 — Mike Connors, who played basketball at U. C. L. A. gets to dribble a bit on Mannix, as he searches for a missing college star (played by Sam Chew Jr.). This means equal time is given to basketball, so Lew Alcindor makes his acting debut and does a good job as the roomie of the missing boy. Gail Goodrich has just a couple of lines, but plays basketball with Connors.

ABC Incorporates, Names Committees

Neenah-Menasha — The Neenah-Menasha ABC (A Better Chance) has been notified that it is incorporated, James Dickson, secretary, said Friday.

The incorporation was one of the first steps Tom Mikula, national director of the public school ABC program, advised the Twin City group to take.

Mikula, who spoke to the group in early January, also urged that the organization have a board of directors with officers. This has also been done.

During a meeting Thursday night the group approved 10 directors and named officers. Hugh Nolin, 645 Congress St., Neenah, was selected as president.

Chosen as vice president was the Rev. Kenneth Walstrom, 701 Kinzie Court, Menasha; Dickson, 1338 Whittier Drive, Neenah, was named secretary and Richard Powers, 1312 Hewitt St., Neenah, was chosen treasurer.

The group decided that it eventually would have 20 directors. The other 10 will be named at a future meeting, Dickson said.

In addition to the officers, other board members include: the Rev. David Fine, 120 E Franklin Ave., Frank Hirst, 958 Higgins Ave.; Mrs. Judith Parker, 1350 Glenview Drive, all from Neenah; and Alton Gaertner, 1427 Fatima St.; William Herziger, 342 Park St., and Richard Anderson, 365 Elm St., all from Menasha.

The bylaws of the organization provide for eight committees. The chairmen of five of the committees were named Thursday night. They include Powers, finance committee; Gaertner, community relations; Anderson, selection; Mrs. Parker, host family, and Hirst, housing.

Still to be named are the chairmen of the health, student activities and school liaison committees, Dickson said.

The local ABC group has been meeting since early December in an effort to get a program going in the Twin Cities. At its first meeting, some of the people involved with Appleton's ABC program explained that program.

Goal of Program

The aim of the Twin City group is to bring 10 ABC students to the Twin Cities next September to attend St. Mary, Neenah and Menasha high schools, and Armstrong High School, Neenah, when it opens.

Dickson said that Powers was directed to prepare a preliminary budget on the program, and then, in the next few days, a letter will be sent to Dartmouth College, which has been the administrative home of the program, making a formal request for funds to assist.

It had been estimated earlier that it would take about $30,000 for 10 students, and the national organization might pick up a large portion of the cost in the early years.

The aim of the program is to take youths with good potential, motivation and emotional stability from ghettos or depressed areas where the environments may be preventing them from developing their capabilities to the fullest, and placing them in a different environment.

2 UW Students From Oshkosh Killed in Crash

Head-On Collision Occurred on U.S. 151 North of Columbus

COLUMBUS — Two University of Wisconsin students on their way home to Oshkosh were killed Friday afternoon in a head-on crash on U. S. 151, about four miles north of here.

Dodge County authorities identified the victims as Peter L. Christensen, 23, 41 Lake St., driver of the car, and Robert B. Rieckman, 19, 1118 E. Nevada St.

Christensen, according to police, was northbound on 151 and was passing another vehicle when his car collided with a southbound auto driven by Michael Mc Conaghy, 24, Beaver Dam.

Mc Conaghy was taken to St. Joseph Hospital, Beaver Dam, for observation. Police said he apparently was not seriously injured. His passenger, Nancy Eisenga, 21, Cambria, Wis., was taken to the hospital for treatment of a broken leg.

Police said Christensen died of crushing chest injuries shortly after being admitted to the Beaver Dam hospital. Rieckman, who was dead at the accident scene, suffered a skull fracture.

Services Set

Christensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Christensen of Oshkosh, was a senior in the University of Wisconsin School of Engineering. Funeral services will be at 9 a.m. Tuesday in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Oshkosh. The Konrad Funeral Home of Oskosh is in charge of arrangements.

Rieckman, a sophomore honor student at the university, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Rieckman of Oshkosh.

Funeral services will be at 3 p.m. Sunday in St. Andrew Evangelical Lutheran Church. The Seefeld Funeral Home of Oshkosh is in charge of arrangements.

Steven Krantz, 17, Cross Plains, was killed Friday when the car he was in swerved to avoid another car at U. S. 151 and 18 in Mount Horeb. The car overturned and hit a tree.

The deaths of the three young people raised the states 1971 traffic toll to 61, compared with 76 on this date a year ago.

Weaver Backs Penalties for 3 of Faculty

UW Head Endorses Council Findings In Antiwar Incident

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Penalties recommended against three University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee faculty members accused of disrupting school activity during antiwar demonstrations last spring were endorsed Friday by UW President John C. Weaver.

Weaver said the University Faculty Council had "dealt fairly with both procedural and substantive objections raised before and during the hearings" against Arnold Kaufman, Morgan Gibson and his wife Barbara.

Kaufman, an associate professor of psychology, would be stripped of tenure for three years. Gibson, an associate professor of English, would lose tenure for two years. And Mrs. Gibson, an English lecturer, would be suspended until the spring semester of 1972.

The school president told the Board of Regents he would welcome the council's advice on reinstatement of Gibson and Kaufman to tenure after their probationary period is up. But he noted the final decision must be approved by the regents.

'Professional Integrity'

"The strength and sustenance of freedom in the academic community depends upon a faculty committed to the advancement of truth and to the upholding of professional integrity," Weaver said.

Commenting further on protests, Weaver called this week's demonstrations in Madison "unfortunate," and said they did nothing to help the peace movement.

The disruption of a faculty meeting by protestors was "the kind of attack on freedom within the institution that can destroy the university," he said.

The regents combined their meeting Friday with a visit to the new $7.5 million Science Complex building at UWM.

The regents attended a luncheon and then toured the structure which houses the College of Applied Science and Engineering, the mathematics department of the College of Letters and Science, a science library and the UWM computer center.

He added that becoming a member of the state patrol had been a life-long ambition.

HINTS FROM Heloise

BY HELOISE:

Dear Heloise:

Here's a good money-saving idea given to me by my aunt . . .

When a little one starts climbing out of his crib and parents can't afford a youth bed, or a larger bed, build one!

Make the frame of the bed

the same dimensions as the crib so that the crib springs and mattress fit inside it. The spring is held up by nailing a triangular block inside each corner. Then buy four, four-inch legs in a hardware store to attach. This way the bed isn't high enough off the floor for the child to get hurt if he falls out.

By using your imagination the bed can be made as fancy as you wish, even with a headboard.

And sheets are no problem. Just use the same ones you used for the crib.

I have taken so many helpful ideas from your column, so hope this one will help some other young parents who also have to watch their budgets.

Becky Steppe

Come on, you handy "Dans!" Get out your saws, nails and what have you. What better way to save a penny (and a precious noggin) than this worthwhile project, eh?

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Here is a mending tip that has stood me in good stead.

When repairing rips and tears — especially in garments of tricot knit — always place the edges together and use a buttonhole stitch.

This will insure a sturdy, lasting job.

Mrs. Charles G.

Letter of Laughter

Dear Heloise:

While you are busy soaking your feet in those rubber boots filled with hot soapy water that you mentioned recently in one of your columns, soak your hands as well.

Take a pair of plastic gloves, wet the inside slightly and pour in a bit of liquid detergent. Then don and massage your hands, fingers and nails. Makes them feel real good and clean, and you get your feet and hands soaked at the same time.

If we gals come up with anymore of these "soaking" ideas, however, someone might tell us to go soak our heads!

Peggy Robertson

Dear Heloise:

When I make double crust pies, I always cut the top to fit just inside the crimped bottom crust after I've added my fruit.

This way I don't get so much fat pastry around the edges.

Hazel Ryan

Dear Heloise:

My friend's little boy simply adores the small cars that come in those tiny boxes. He has many and carries them everywhere. This presents a problem because he often loses the cars at the park, or leaves some at his playmates' homes.

His mother decided to mark his initials on each car with red nail polish.

This solved the problem. Immediately recognizable, there is no more mistaken identity between his cars and those of his friends . . . and children at the park can no longer claim ownership.

Donene Harrison

Dear Heloise:

Know something? To best clean those house brooms with the nylon bristles, just sweep your lawn! Takes the dust and dirt right out!

Old Bachelor

Dear Heloise:

There are three doorways leading into my kitchen — a back door to the basement and yard; a second door to the hallway and dining room, and a third to the main hallway.

That was a few too many for me. Sure, it saved five steps when going in the kitchen from the front, but that's about all.

So I had a closet built in the doorway facing the front with six shelves on the back side facing the kitchen.

Now I've got extra space — more than I had ever dreamed of having — and it has worked out beautifully.

Archer Outlines County Options

Mental Health Efforts Decentralize

BY BILL HURRLE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEENAH — County mental health program futures and options were outlined recently to the guidance center board by Dr. Ralph Archer, director of the State Bureau of Mental Health.

Decentralization was the basic word. The state is on the way to expanding community programs like the guidance clinic and de-emphasizing its hospitals and central consulting roles. The process should be completed during the decade.

Archer said the state would get out, but would make it mandatory for counties to get in the mental health business. Most already are. There are 35 county mental hospitals, 88 day care centers and the clinic program is so developed that it sees more patients than state and county hospitals combined.

The system is still in design stages but would insist on local provision of services and one controlling board for all state-supported mental health functions. The state is thinking of providing 50 per cent support, and would throw in an added 5 per cent to counties with centralized control.

This fiscal year the division of mental hygiene has a budget of $86.6 million, with 41 per cent or $35.6 million designated for community aids. Winnebago County has $2.1 million budgeted for mental health this year.

The motives for the change are part financial and part demographic. There are now enough people to make county programs for the one in ten who will develop mental health problems big enough to be efficient, and there are also mental health professions available to staff the programs.

It costs about $900 a month per state mental patient and about $300 a month for each county patient hospitalized. The most dramatic saving is at the clinic level, where each patient costs $153 ayear.

After-Care

Clinic after-care programs, only available in the last decade, have also helped cut the average length of care in state hospitals from nine months in 1960 to three months in 1970. It is impossible to determine the number of hospitalizations clinics have prevented, but there are many.

Since there is no such thing as a free ride at state mental hospitals, this is important to families with mental health problems. A judge may commit then legally liable for the cost of the care — about $12,000 a year — for the rest of the patient's life.

Archer said the present collection agency was benign, but the liability remains and can be collected at any time.

The County Guidance Center Board reviewed its struggles with its boss — the 47 supervisors on the county board — and asked Archer what its powers were. Archer said they were what the county board cared to delegate. "He advised them to raise their issues in a straightforward manner, respect and honor the board's structure and apply as much community pressure as they could generate to coax unbelieving supervisors (a bare minority) into support.

Board Control

Any centralized mental health board — now responsibility is fractured among six committees — would still be under county board control. There would be one director and one interchangeable staff and one budget if the state gets its machine together.

The guidance board continued its grumbling about being forced to move from cramped quarters in the WNAM building just south of Neenah to the nurses' quarters at Sunnyview Sanatorium. It asked Archer what the state could do about it if the move didn't work.

He said the state could disapprove the center's budget when it came up for state review. The state pays 40 per cent of the cost. "The only criteria for judging if the move works is efficient service of the population. If the patient load drops, we'd take a look at it."

TWIN CITY news

Panel Told 'No Fault' May Bring Accidents

MADISON (AP)—The controversial "no fault" auto insurance plan would receive little support in Wisconsin because it encourages irresponsible driving, a state Senate committee was told Friday.

"You don't reduce rates, gentlemen, you reduce accidents," Gerald T. Hayes of the Defense Research Institute of Milwaukee told the Commerce, Labor, Taxation, Insurance and Banking Committee.

"If you remove fault from the highways, you are removing the deterrent to bad driving," he said.

Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek, who called the hearing to obtain evidence regarding auto insurance rates, said he felt the no fault plan would "penalize the good driver."

Lorge said he supported adopting car bumper vulnerability standards and an index of such vulnerability which would be reflected in insurance rates for various makes of cars.

Donald Schaffer, chief counsel for Allstate Insurance, Co. told the committee sedans moving slower than joggers running for exercise sustained damages averaging $541 per accident last year.

Charging the system of making reparations to injured parties will do little "unless something is done about the cost problem," he said.

But James Kilroy, Chrysler's manager of legislative relations, said new energy absorbing bumpers will add $80 to $100 to the cost of a car.

And Robert Mathews of General Motors said the cost of complying with a Florida law which takes effect in 1975 requiring bumpers to withstand 10 mile an hour collisions "never will be recovered during the life of the car."

Postal Employes Get Long Weekend

NEENAH-MENASHA — There will be no delivery of mail Monday. Federal employes are getting the day off in honor of Lincoln's Birthday, which was Friday.

Twin Cities' postmasters said there will be no delivery by city or rural carriers and no window service, but the lobby of the post office will be open and special delivery will be provided.

At least one collection will be made from mail boxes.

Three Pedestrians Struck by Car

Three pedestrians were injured, two of them seriously enough to be taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital by ambulance, after they were struck by a car at College Avenue and Appleton Street late Friday morning.

John Hoerning, 52, 825 E. Glendale Ave., suffered minor bumps and bruises and was not hospitalized. His wife was taken to the hospital with left shoulder, head, right arm and leg injuries. Esther Rosenblum, 1220 E. Pacific St., suffered injuries to her right knee and left foot.

Police said Phillip E. Kuntz, 26, 729 11th St., Menasha, was turning left onto College Avenue after stopping for a traffic light on Appleton Street when his car struck Mr. and Mrs. Hoerning. Mrs. Rosenblum was knocked down by Hoerning after he was struck, police reported.

Family Life Panel To Address Park PTA

KAUKAUNA — A panel discussion on "Family Life Education" will be held at a meeting of the Park School Parent-Teacher Association at 8 p.m. Monday at the school.

Panel members will include Noel Diffatte, Henry Drechsler and City Nurse Mrs. Mary Yingling, members of a committee working on such a program to be introduced into the school curriculum.

Village Kiwanis to Learn About Adoptions

KIMBERLY — James Siebers, representative of the Appleton Apostolate, will speak on Adoptions at a Kiwanis Club dinner meeting at 6:15 p.m. Wednesday at the Darboy Club.

Plans will be made for the governor's banquet to be held at Seymour Feb. 27 with President Gilbert Frank in charge of tickets and reservations. Discussion will also be held on a proposed interclub meeting with Northside Appleton on March 9.

Regional Service Will be Outlined For Officials

NEENAH — A 12-week training course to acquaint municipal officials with the workings of the Regional Information Service at Oshkosh State University will start later this month at Neenah City Hall.

The course will show officials the types of information they can get through the service computers in Oshkosh. All 1970 census data will be plugged into the computer and will be available to subscribing municipalities.

Neenah has been a subscriber for the past three years.

Catholic School to Use Semester Break As Make-Up Period

SHERWOOD — There will be classes as usual Monday at St. John-Sacred Heart School, even though it is marked a holiday on the school calendar.

Because the school has been closed due to bad weather, officials will use the day as a makeup.

Parents of children living in the Kaukauna school district however, are asked to provide transportation, since Kaukauna buses will not run

Hilbert school district buses will run as usual Monday.

Painting Course Planned at UWGB Fox Valley Campus

A course entitled "A Dual Approach to Painting" will begin Monday at the Fox Valley Campus on Midway Rd

The course, sponsored by University Extension, meets from 7 to 10 p.m. for ten consecutive Mondays. It will be taught by Wesley Simpson, assistant professor of art at the Fox Valley Campus of UWGB.

Simpson will impart an understanding of the traditions and history of art and will explain techniques of oil painting

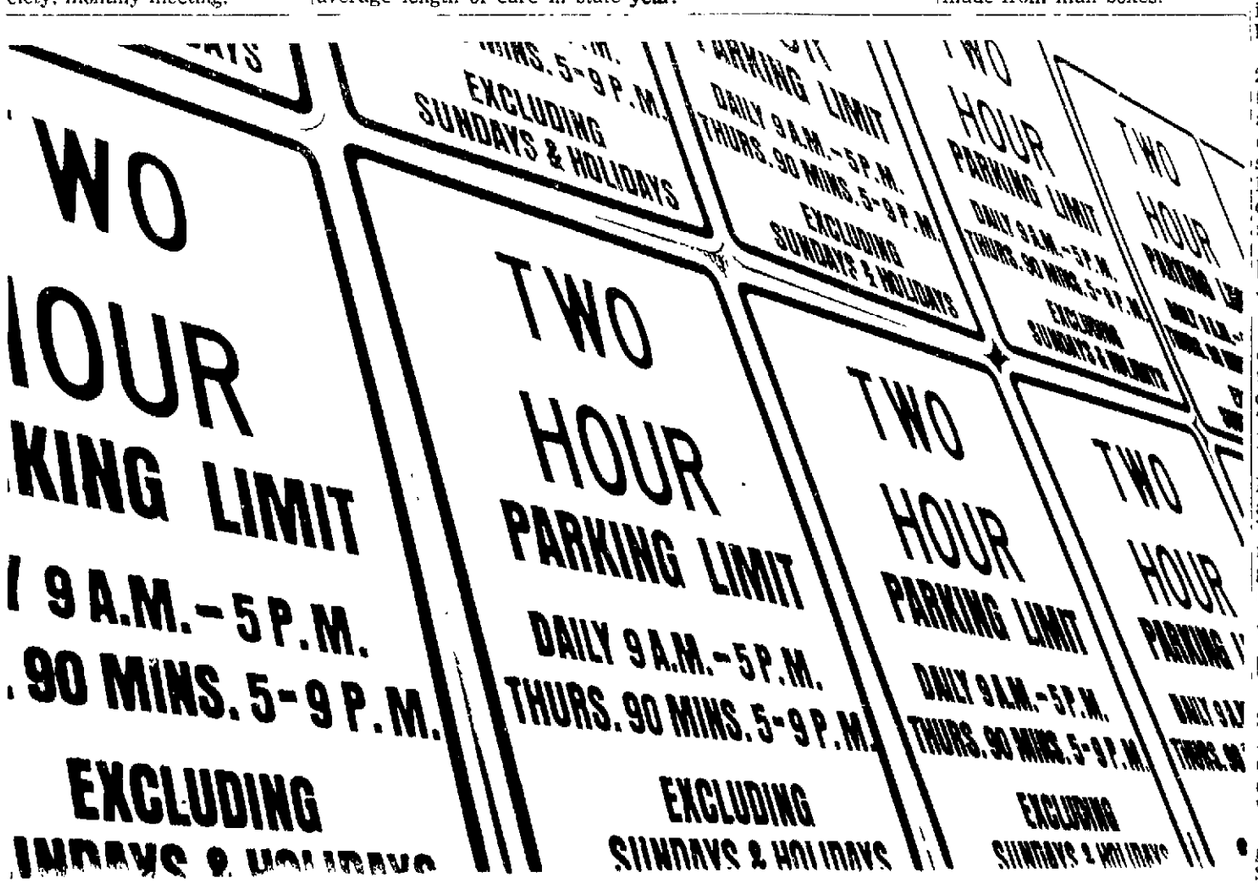

The dual approach, Simpson explains, deals with the linear and painterly techniques of oil painting It will use history as a key to explain these approaches and how they resulted in the Renaissance and the Baroque styles."

Besides gaining an historical perspective, Simpson hopes students will learn to investigate and control the medium of oil and direct it toward expressive ends The student can select materials, stretch and prepare canvases, mix colors, select subjects, compose, and explore chiaroscuro techniques, glazing and underpainting.

Simpson, an artist himself, has taught at three universities and the University Extension.

The course will meet in the art studio; and fee is $24. Enrollment is limited to 15

Further information is available at the university extension office at the Fox Valley Campus.

Twenty-Two of These Signs will be placed along Main Street, Menasha, on Monday to advertise new parking regulations there designed to pick up retail trade. # Supervisors Push to Block Jail Bonding

Organized opposition can be expected to at least one phase of a proposed $3.8 million general obligation bond issuance which will come before the Outagamie County Board at a special meeting next Thursday.

County Clerk Arthur Hoolihan said he called the meeting Friday afternoon in response to a petition signed by 29 supervisors. Clearance for the special meeting was given at the regular board session this month. The proposal needed endorsement by a simple majority of supervisors.

Supervisors will be asked to adopt the initial resolution authorizing the bond issuance. Revenues for the bonds would be used to finance the new jail, expected to cost about $2 million, and for repayment of a number of short-term loans incurred by the county.

Supv. Eugene Kloes of Appleton admitted this morning that efforts are being made to rally supervisors to vote against the portion of the resolution which would authorize the bonding for jail revenues.

Supv. Charles Wussow, also of Appleton, reportedly is working with Kloes on opposition measures. Wussow could not be reached for comment this morning.

Both supervisors have fought against construction of a jail at the present courthouse site. Their latest proposal, shared by several other supervisors, was that a safety building should be constructed at the farm site.

Supervisors, at next Thursday's session, will have to vote separately on each of several parts of the bonding resolution. Each part will deal with the appropriation of bond revenues for specific purposes.

Kloes said that a two-thirds vote of the total board membership is needed for passage on each part and for the passage of the overall resolution.

That would mean the measures would have to be supported by at least 32 of the 47 supervisors.

"We've got what you call a hard core group" in opposition to previous safety building and jail proposals, Kloes said. He recalled that the group has been able to muster between 10 and 18 opposition votes in the past.

Kloes contended there has not yet been a conclusive figure presented on the total bond issue.

He also said he questioned present jail plans which call for a kitchen and related facilities. There had been talk, he remarked, that future plans might call for the elimination of food preparation in the jail with replacement by a catering service.

If the enabling resolution is passed Thursday, the board could award a bonding bid at its March meeting, supervisors were told last week.

Universities Fear Results of Austerity

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MILWAUKEE — Gov. Patrick J. Lucey's call for austerity "is a matter of great concern," University of Wisconsin President John C. Weaver told the board of regents Friday.

The president said the belt-tightening ordered for all state agencies poses "difficult problems for the university because our employment practices are different from other agencies."

The university should be recruiting replacements and additions to the faculty and making promotions and salary increase commitments to the present staff now, he said, but a freeze on hiring and the late date at which the governor's budget recommendations will be made known prevent normal procedures.

Lucey expects to present his budget to the Legislature by March 2, a month later than usual. Reports are circulating in the capital that the governor plans to propose some major changes in the University of Wisconsin State University systems. The uncertainty itself has caused some problems in university planning in the next school year, Weaver and university assistant vice president Donald Percy indicated in their statements to the board.

Limit Hiring

Percy said that chancellors have been advised to limit hiring to fill vacancies up to 50 per cent of the number of open positions during the remainder of the biennium. Further, only 80 per cent of the vacancies and authorized positions for the fall of 1971 are to be contracted for, he said.

Before launching the discussion about austerity measures, the regents approved 343 new UW appointments. Of those, the regents were told, 123 involved state funds and 20 of those were made after the hiring freeze took effect. Those appointments, the regents were told, represented commitments made prior to the freeze.

No New Faculty

The cutback, Percy said, involves primarily existing jobs and does not take into account expected growth on some of the campuses. Thus, he indicated, no provision has been made for hiring additional faculty to teach the 3,000 to 3,500 enrollment increase on all campuses for the fall.

UW-Green Bay Campus Chancellor Edward Weidner said that the freeze means that the Green Bay campus will be required to teach the enrollment next fall, expected to be a lage increase over the present enrollment, with the present number of faculty members.

If new jobs are authorized and the budget approved by the legislature shortly before school opens, Weaver said, "it won't do us any good." He indicated it would be impossible to hire additional faculty at the last minute, despite an apparent nationwide surplus of degree holding persons available to teach.

The president futher charged that the austerity measure will hurt efforts and plans of the university to improve undergraduate education.

Legislation May Ban Selling of Certain Pelts

MADISON (AP)—Legislation to ban the sale of 18 different pelts, including that of the badger and other endangered species, was introduced in the State Senate Friday by Fred Risser, D-Madison.

In addition to the badger, other pelts that would be protected were the alligator, beaver, crocodile, fisher, leopard, lynx, martin, muskrat, otter, polar bear, prairie wolf, sea lion, seal, timber wolf, walrus, whale, and the wild mink.

Persons convicted of selling such pelts could be fined up to $1,000. The proposed law would take effect Jan. 1, 1972.

Sen. Reuben La Fave, R-Oconto, introduced a resolution spelling out how federal revenue funds would be allocated within Wisconsin if Congress approved President Nixon's proposal for $16 billion in federal revenue sharing with the states.

In the Assembly, which also held a non-work session, a measure was introduced to authorize chiropractors to treat persons involved in workmen's compensation cases.

Bill Introduced to Allocate Liquor Tax to Veterans

State Sen. Myron Lotto, Green Bay, has introduced legislation to allocate part of the State liquor tax revenues to the veterans trust fund.

"Prior to the Korean War part of the liquor tax revenues were transferred to the veterans trust fund. This provision was eliminated during the war when the number of veterans was low," Lotto said.

"This bill will reactivate the former law. It will allocate 50 per cent of these revenues to the veterans trust fund, after the liquor tax program administrative and enforcement expenses are deducted," he said.

The Veterans Trust Fund provides loans to veterans who show need for medical or educational purposes. It helps veterans finance the construction or improvement of their own homes and operates the G.A.R. Memorial Hall in the State Capitol.

"My bill has strong bipartisan support from Legislators from all over the state. I expect it to receive rapid approval."

HEW Report on Discrimination To be Released

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MILWAUKEE — A report from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare on discrimination against women on the University of Wisconsin campuses' is expected in the next two of three weeks, according to Robert Gentry, a university assistant vice president.

Gentry expects the report on a five-day visit by HEW officials to the UW Madison campus last month "will ask us to do things we are already doing." He said he was optimistic the university will not reschedule funds because of alleged discrimination. "I am optimistic we can negotiate," he told the UW Board of Regents meeting here Friday.

The assistant vice president, who is in charge of human rights on the UW campuses, said he believed the HEW officials were encouraged by their visit, especially since charges of discrimination were brought to them, precluding the necessity of their seeking discrimination out.

The UW is under surveillance by HEW as a result of charges of discrimination against women brought last fall by a national group. The Women's Equity Action League brought charges against about 100 universities in the country, Gentry said.

Up to that time, he said, "we had no inkling of a problem." He said that the UW had filed an affirmative action program to work against discrimination and it had been accepted by HEW.

The federal department will show that women are underutilized, underpaid, and in too small numbers in teaching and staff jobs, Gentry predicted.

He said that the university has been asking women to come forward and to express their complaints. "Not once has a committee received a complaint," he said, although he said, 15 to 20 complaints were filed with the HEW officials, eight of them signed and written.

Gentry said he has talked with representatives of women on the Madison campus and in the University of Wisconsin Extension and "they were very appreciative they had someone to sit down and talk to," he said.

The women's rights group on the Green Bay campus has not yet filed any complaints, although several members of the faculty and staff plan to do so, according to reports. At present the group is attempting to compile records to substantiate complaints.

UW President John Weaver reiterated a plank for dealing with all personnel grievances, outlined earlier in the week. He expressed his concern repeatedly that there is no complete procedure for handling all staff complaints in the UW system, and recommended the campus chancellors form channels for hearing charges and negotiating complaints.

"There are things we can do to improve our employe practice's," Weaver said. He said that attempts to settle complaints and make proper amends to those who have suffered discrimination be done during the annual staff review this spring within the innards of the university.

Budget Planning Recess Slated For Legislature

MADISON (AP) — A legislative committee finished work Thursday on a plan for a spring recess during which the Joint Finance Committee could work full-time on taxes and the 1971-73 state budget.

The plan's blueprint for staggered sessions in 1971 and 1972 represents a step toward proposals for annual legislative sessions instead of the current practice of biennial sessions.

Under the proposal presented by the Joint Organization Committee, the legislature would be in recess May 18-April 8 while hearings were conducted.

Floor action would resume April 8, and recess again June 30 or when a new budget has been adopted. Any bill not having received approval from at least one of the houses would automatically expire.

The legislature would convene again Oct. 26-Nov. 12 with a similar provision for letting bills die. A fourth installment of the 1971 session would begin Jan. 18, 1972, and conclude March 10.

A special session would be available to review any gubernatorial veto.

For Regional Planning

Cities Want Power To Move Railroads

The mid-Fox Valley metropolitan communities should join the Brown County-Green Bay area in seeking legislation to enable municipalities to relocate railroad tracks in the best interest of overall community development, it was agreed Friday.

The Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) transportation technical advisory committee voted to ask the COG governing body to permit it to join the Brown County Planning Commission's committees in seeking to sway legislators to support this view in legislation.

Without this authority, there are serious questions about whether a region can implement regional plans effectively, Ralph Bergman, executive director of the Brown County commission, said.

Need for Power

LeRoy Empey, formerly state highway commissioner and Brown County commission official, said there is a need in Brown County and the Fox Cities-Oshkosh region for this power.

"We need some method for condemning or securing the right to move some railroad operations to another railroad," he said, noting, however, there may be constitutional and Interstate Commerce Commission barriers to be considered.

What the committees can do now, he said, is to meet jointly and invite area legisiators to discuss the desires. He said it could lead to legislation or "at least be a start in this field."

In other action, the COG committee wrangled with how it should or if it should initiate a program of jurisdictional planning — which will be used to determine whether the state or a county has construction and repair responsibilities for a particular stretch of road.

Cost of Expressway

The committee is concerned about who will bear the cost for the proposed tri-county expressway, and last year agreed that there should be an effort to convert as much as possible of it to state trunk highway, if the state will accept it.

Outagamie Highway Commissioner Clarence Brownson, committee chairman, argued it should originate from each county because the counties will make the decision locally in the final analysis.

Harold Fiedler, district highway engineer, said that the COG group should initiate the planning of possible conversion area because the state will want to see definitely planned locations of conversion.

Entire County

Robert Graf, Winnebago County highway commissioner, said the counties will not be willing to make jurisdictional decisions unless the entire county is included. And the need now is in the metropolitan area, he said.

In another business item, the COG committee endorsed making the planned Ninth Street bridge at Menasha 55 feet high because it was considerably unlikely that the U. S. Coast Guard would accept a petition to put it at 35 feet. The petition would delay construction and the additional cost for the he extra height isn't worth that, Fiedler suggested.

Graf outlined the cost breakdown for the proposed bridge which is scheduled to be built in 1974.

Brillion High Students Hold Sit-in Over Rumored Teacher Dismissal

BRILLION — Brillion High School students staged a sympathy sit-in most of the day Friday over the rumored firing of a 25-year-old English teacher Thursday night.

Frank Boyle allegedly was fired because of his classroom teaching techniques. These involved "discussing openly and with honesty" items which are of interest and importance to students, the teacher said today. Gaylord Unbehaun, superintendent of schools, has declined to comment.

"Most of the ideas expressed in my classes related to English," Boyle added. "We were relating to contemporary issues, important to young people."

Class Discussions

He noted that contemporary literature is being studied by his junior and senior students.

Principles of democracy and individual rights also were discussed, Boyle said.

He was asked Thursday night at a meeting of the administration and the English department head to resign. He reportedly told them he would not.

The student-initiated sit-in Friday resulted. It originally involved all students, he said, but later it was reduced to about 150, most of them Boyle's students.

Boyle said he did not meet with classes Friday.

The school board is expected to meet today to discuss the issue

Unpaid Parking Fines Mount Up in Court

Supv Eugene F. Kloes, 203 N. State St., and Atty David F. Krizenesky, 2124 W. Larkspur Drive, are among 15 persons according to Appleton police records, who owe on ten or more parking tickets. Krizenesky, has 14 outstanding, Kloes, 23.

Records show dozens of others who haven't paid on nine or less. Some of the overdue tickets date to late 1969.

Names, addresses and number of unpaid tickets of the 13 others with ten or more tickets follow below and represent police statistics available as of Friday:

Michael Swiertz, 819½ W. College Ave. 27; James J. Vaske, 523 S. Walnut St., and James F. Henes, last known address Racine, 23; Pat Stoddard, 129 E College Ave., 19; Kathleen Cady, 1213 S. Madison St., 18; James F. Stern, 1002 Algoma St., New London, 17; Ronald S. Alsteen 417 Railroad St., Kimberly, 14; John W. Kelly 1836 W. Marquette St., 13; Kevin Flaherty, route 2, Black Creek, 12; Jerome H Block, Box 855, Appleton, and Sally R Mattson, 502 W. Atlantic St., 11; Walter H. Houghton, Milwaukee, and Richard Stocchetti, Phi Kappa Tau fraternity house, Lawrence University, 10.

Final warning letters were sent to Kloes and Krizenesky Wednesday. Alsteen and Miss Cady also have been sent warnings. Alsteen is to appear in court Friday, Miss Cady, Feb. 26

No Response

A person has five days to pay a $1 parking ticket, police said, after which the figure jumps to $2 Then, after a certain amount of time elapses, form letters are sent demanding payment of the $2. No response eventually leads to assessment of a $5 fine.

Failure to pay the $5 fine brings a telephone call and still another warning letter. If the party still refuses to pay, a complaint is issued and a summons is sent and the person must appear in court.

If he appears, he's assessed another $8 covering one or all the tickets, for court costs. The $5 fine is imposed for each ticket. Failure to appear in court will cost the tardy person still another $10 for the preparation of a warrant, which, if exercised, can result in jail.

The crackdown usually occurs annually, if persons persistently refuse to make good on the old tickets.
